ALL-PARTY MEETING EXPRESSED SATISFACTION OVER THE GOVERNMENT'S KOVID MITIGATION EFFORTS

Thiruvananthapuram, 27 May: Chief Minister Mr. Pinarayi Vijayan held an all-party meeting today to apprise the leaders of all major political parties in Kerala about the government's Kovid preventive measures and steps being taken by the government to manage the epidemic.

Giving information to the media, the Chief Minister said, “Before our preventive measures are reaching the next stage, before that I had an online meeting with the leaders of all the political parties of the state. In the all-party meeting, the leaders expressed their satisfaction over the government's Kovid mitigation efforts. He has also given his support for the measures being taken by the government. The leaders were of the opinion that people, government and local self-government bodies should come together in the present situation in fighting the epidemic. The leaders have made several valuable suggestions and the government will examine them seriously. Everyone agreed that we have to be more careful and cautious as more and more people from other states of our country and other countries are coming back to Kerala."

The meeting emphasized the importance of home quarantine and talked about how people in quarantine are expected to follow strict instructions. The public, neighbors and police have to be vigilant as to whether people are violating the quarantine. He said, "State anyone is willing to take back, but if they come prior notice and do not comply with the quarantine correctly without, will be rejected our efforts to prevent the spread of the virus."

The Chief Minister also remarked that the expenses of institutional quarantine are being borne by the expatriates, there is a misunderstanding. The payment facility is only for those who can afford it. The poor will not face any difficulty. The government order will have all the details in this regard. During the all-party meeting, the issue was also raised by various party representatives.

The Chief Minister also announced that Kerala has no objection to chartered flights coming from other countries, unless prior notice is given. Any report to the contrary is completely unfounded. If the information is already given, then the arrangement will happen.

Sunday 31 May will be a full cleaning day

In an effort to curb the diseases spreading in this season with the onset of monsoon, the Chief Minister announced today that next Sunday (May 31) will be a cleanliness day across the state. The decision to observe this cleaning day was taken on the basis of suggestions in the all-party meeting.

“Sunday is now a full lockdown day in the state but next Sunday, everyone should clean their house and the area around them. Public spaces will be cleaned by LSG bodies. This will protect us from all possible situations of the spread of the disease. I request the support and cooperation of all parties and organizations in this cleaning activity. If people can come together, we can overcome this situation. The government has requested each party to make special efforts to educate the public to prevent the spread of the disease. The government is happy that all have accepted it.

In addition to the opposition leader, Mr Ramesh Chennithala, about various political parties 15 leaders attended the meeting.
