One Day Training/Webinar
on
“Thunderstorm and Lightning”
14th July 2020

National Institute of Disaster Management (NIDM) in collaboration with India Meteorological Department organized a webinar on “Thunderstorm and Lightning” on 14th July 2020. This was the first webinar of a four webinar series on “Hydro-Meteorological Hazards Risk Reduction”. Hon’ble Minister of State for Home Affairs, Shri Nityanand Rai ji graced the webinar as chief guest of the event. Dr. M. Rajeevan, Secretary, MoES, Dr. Mrutyunjay Mohapatra, Director General of Meteorology, India Meteorological Department; Major General Manoj Kumar Bindal, ED, NIDM; Dr. V. Thiruppugazh, IAS, Additional Secretary, National Disaster Management Authority; Dr Soma Sen Roy, Scientist-F, India Meteorological Department; Prof. Surya Parkash, Head GMRD, NIDM shared their experiences and expertise on the theme of the webinar. The webinar was moderated by Mr. Raju Thapa, YP, Geo-Meteorological Risks Management Division, NIDM and Dr. Harjeet Kaur, YP, GMR Division, NIDM extended the vote of thanks to the distinguished guests and speakers in the inaugural session.

Hon’ble Union Minister of State for Home Affairs, Shri Nityanand Rai inaugurated the first webinar on “Thunderstorms and Lightning” of the webinar series. In his address, Shri Rai highlighted the major interventions carried out by the Government of India’s departments/agencies for reducing the adverse risks of Hydro-Meteorological disasters. He also emphasised on focusing the collaborative short and long term mitigation and reduction measures to diminish the adverse impacts of these disasters. Major General Manoj Kumar Bindal, ED, NIDM stressed on increasing occurrence and severity thunderstorm & Lightning which is a wake-up call for all agencies to take appropriate action for prevention, preparedness and mitigation in order to save lives, livestock, property and infrastructure. It becomes a challenge for disaster managers to take preventive and mitigation measures through preparation of action plan. Dr. Mrutyunjay Mohapatra, Director General of Meteorology, India Meteorological Department highlighted the importance of such webinars and also pointed out that such programme will go a long way in enhancing the capacity of the disaster managers, media and the general public to deal with various type of hydro-meteorological disasters. He also highlighted the recent approaches, initiatives and approaches of IMD. Dr. M. Rajeevan, Secretary, MoES, pointed out that thunderstorm & Lightning disaster are the most devastating hazards in India and it has emerged as one of the major weather hazard of recent years in different parts of the country. Dr. V. Thiruppugazh, IAS, Additional Secretary, National Disaster Management Authority pointed out that on average about 2000 people die due to lightning and thunderstorm in India. He also added that due to the initiatives taken by IMD, NDMA, NIDM, NDRF and state governments thousand of lives have been saved and the loss of life have been reduced. He also spoke about the new initiatives of governments and brought the importance of community preparedness. Dr Soma Sen Roy, Scientist-F, India Meteorological Department gave a detail presentation on the thunderstorm and lightning highlighting the basics of thunderstorm and lightning, monitoring and initiatives taken from MoES in Early warning and Prediction. She explained the short range forecasting, medium range forecasting and nowcasting of thunderstorm and lightning. Prof. Surya Parkash, Head GMRD, NIDM during his presentation shared his knowledge with the participants and mentioned that Thunderstorm and Lightning are hazardous and cause risk to life and public property. He also stressed upon the causes of lightning deaths, consequences and their prevention. He also brought an interesting comparison of Lightning myths and facts and tips to protect ourselves from Lightning. The webinar was supervised and guided by Major General Manoj Kumar Bindal, VSM Executive Director, NIDM. About 507 participants from various field and states attended the webinar and about 1170 others viewed the live streaming of the webinar in Youtube (Annexure Table 1).

“Cloudburst and Flood”

21st July 2020.

National Institute of Disaster Management (NIDM) in collaboration with India Meteorological Department organized a webinar on “Cloudburst and Flood” on 21st July 2020. This was the second webinar of a four webinar series on “Hydro-Meteorological Hazards Risk Reduction”. Major General Manoj Kumar Bindal, VSM, ED NIDM presented the concluding remarks in the webinar. Distinguished speakers namely Mr B.P. Yadav, Scientist-F & Head Hydromet Division, India Meteorological Department; Dr. R.K. Jenamani, Scientist-F, India Meteorological Department; Sh. Sharad Chandra, Director(FFM), CWC; Prof. Surya Parkash, Head, GMR Division, NIDM shared their knowledge and experience with the participants. The webinar was moderated by Dr. Harjeet Kaur, YP, Geo-Meteorological Risks Management Division, NIDM.

Major General Manoj Kumar Bindal, VSM, ED NIDM in his inaugural address highlighted the urgent need to understand the salient features of cloudburst, floods and associated hazards and guidance for early warning and communication, keeping in mind system gap areas, challenges and opportunities. He also mentioned that this webinar will aims at sensitizing the participants regarding assessment, forecast, preparedness and mitigation of cloudburst & flood, understanding adverse effects of cloudburst & flood, technical knowledge and available resources for timely response and recovery. Sh. Sharad Chandra, Director (FFM), CWC discussed the increase in intensity and frequency of extreme weather events. He also stressed upon the non-uniformity of rainfall in space and time. Sh. Sharad Chandra also discussed the types of floods, flood risk, flood prone regions in India, flood forecasting and modernization in flood forecasting. Mr B.P. Yadav, Scientist-F & Head Hydromet Division, India Meteorological Department gave a detailed presentation on Hydrometeorological services of IMD for Flood forecast. He mentioned that various observations and models show that hazards are intensifying and addressing unmet needs of multi-hazard early warning systems is crucial and need of the hour. He also talked about the present status of surface observation network of IMD, forecasting methodology, Numerical Weather Prediction (NWP) Modeling, Hydromet Support: Flood Forecasting, Flood Forecasting Offices, Hydro-meteorological Services etc. He also talked about the Quantitative Precipitation Forecast (QPF) and the inputs of QPF and probabilistic QPF. Prof. Surya Parkash, Head, GMR Division, NIDM brought forward the disaster management aspects of Cloudburst and Flood. He also correlated the theme of the webinar to the Sendail framework, Sustainable Development Goals, paris agreement and PM 10 points agenda. He also talked about the guidelines issued by NDMA on management of floods. About 1182 attendees marked their presence in the webinar via Cisco Webex platform and about 1130 other viewed youtube live streaming of the programme (Annextture Table 2).

One Day Training/Webinar
on
“Cyclones and Storm Surges”

28th July, 2020

National Institute of Disaster Management (NIDM) in collaboration with India Meteorological Department organized a webinar on “Cyclone and Storm surges” on 28th July, 2020. This was the third webinar of a four webinar series on “Hydro-Meteorological Hazards Risk Reduction”. Shri G.V.V. Sarma, IAS, Member Secretary, NDMA; Shri S N Pradhan, IPS, Director General, NDRF; Dr. Mrutyunjay Mohapatra, Director General of Meteorology, India Meteorological Department; Major General Manoj Kumar Bindal, VSM, ED NIDM; Dr. Surya Parkash, Prof. & Head GMRD, NIDM; Mrs Sunith Devi, Sc-E, IMD and Shri Anup Karanth, World Bank enlighten the participants with their knowledge and experiences. The webinar was moderated by Mr. Anil Kathait, YP, Geo-Meteorological Risks Management Division, NIDM and Mr. Raju Thapa YP, GMR Division, NIDM extended the vote of thanks to the distinguished guests and speakers in the inaugural session.

Shri G.V.V. Sarma, IAS, Member Secretary, NDMA stressed that Hydro-Meteorological disaster are on a rise and it is duty of everyone to step up preparedness and resilience. He also praised IMD for their tremendous work in cyclone forecasting and also mentioned that NDMA is working with IMD and INCOIS to work in the dimension of impact based forecasting. He also highlighted that in coming future, the challenge will be identification and demarcation of infrastructure and grading them based on their ability to withstand the maximum wind speed. He also talked about the community based coastal shelter belt plantation. Major General Manoj Kumar Bindal, VSM, ED NIDM in his inaugural address mentioned that of India's 7,500 kilometer coastline, almost 5,700 kilometers are highly vulnerable to the impacts of tropical cyclones and related hydro-meteorological hazards and consequently to recurrent loss of life and properties. It is now well recognized that by taking long and short term mitigation measures, the loss of life and properties can be minimized. Hazard risk mitigation is a key to sustainable development and this has been the policy of Govt. of India which lays greater emphasis on prevention, preparation and mitigation. Dr. Mrutyunjay Mohapatra, Director General of Meteorology, India Meteorological Department in his address highlighted the new initiatives and approaches that are undertaken by the government of India. He pointed out that early warning a major component for management of multi-hazards like cyclone. Early warning in India has improved significantly and our forecasting is second to none in comparison to leading countries such as Japan, Australia, USA, UK and these forecast enables the disaster managers to take necessary measures to prevent the loss of life and properties. He also mentioned that though we have increased our forecast accuracy leading to minimization in loss of life but still as the economic condition of the country increases or improves, the loss of property due to cyclone also increases. Therefore, a major goal now is to improve forecast in such a way that loss of property by providing impact based forecast. Shri S. N. Pradhan, IPS, Director General, NDRF, stressed upon enhancing the mitigation ability of our systems towards cyclones and floods. He also shared his experience from the Extremely Severe Cyclonic Storm Fani and Super Cyclonic Storm Amphan. He underlined that it is high time now that we must to second phase of disaster resilience which is protecting our infrastructure. He also mentioned that standardization of disaster communication is one of the important parts of resilience. Mrs Sunith Devi, Sc-E, IMD gave a detail presentation of “Cyclones & Storm surge: Basic facts and prediction” where she highlighted basics of tropical cyclone, track and intensity forecasting, outcomes, types of potential damage, cyclone hazard analysis. She also discussed the cause of storm surges, factor influencing storm surges, observing and measuring storm surges, storm surge forecasting and impact based forecasting. Shri Anup Karanth, World Bank gave a detail presentation on National Cyclone Risk Mitigation Project NCRMP I/AF & NCRMP II. He explained various components of NCRMP I namely Component A: Early Warning Dissemination System (EWDS) and Capacity building for Coastal Communities (USD 15M), Component B: Cyclone Risk Mitigation Infrastructure (USD 378M), Component C: Technical Assistance for National and State Level Capacity Building and Knowledge Creation (USD 6M) and Component D: Project Management and Implementation Support (USD29 M). He also discussed the objective and components of the NCRMP-II project. Dr. Surya Parkash, Prof. & Head GMRD, NIDM shared the impacts of cyclone and strom surges observed during the field during the documentation by NIDM and also how we are trying to build preparedness and enhance resilience through capacity building and enhancement. He explained in details the Extremely Severe Cyclonic Storm Phailin with real ground pictures. He also talked about the Tamil Nadu System for Multi-hazard potential impact Assessment and emergency Response Tracking (TNSMART) which is a A web-GIS based Decision Support System to strengthen preparedness, response, recovery and mitigation measures during multi hazards of flood, cyclone and tsunami. He also discussed various mode via which NIDM is working in building capacity of the people towards disaster and working towards achieving the goal of NIDM to build a disaster free India. About 1000 participants (maximum participants) attended the webinar via Cisco Webex platform and about 2,500 other viewed our youtube live streaming of the programme (Annexure Talbe 3).

One Day Training/Webinar
on
Climate Change and Extreme Weather Events
4th August, 2020

National Institute of Disaster Management (NIDM) in collaboration with India Meteorological Department organized a webinar on “Climate Change and Extreme Weather Events” on 04th August, 2020. This was the final webinar of a four webinar series on “Hydro-Meteorological Hazards Risk Reduction”. Maj. Gen. Manoj Kumar Bindal, VSM, Executive Director, NIDM delivered the inaugural address during the webinar and Dr. D.R. Pattanaik, Sc-F, India Meteorological Department; Prof. Kapil Gupta, IIT Bombay and Prof. Surya Parkash, Head, GMR Division, NIDM were the distinguished speakers for the programme. The webinar was moderated by Dr. Harjeet Kaur, YP, Geo-Meteorological Risks Management Division, NIDM.

Maj. Gen. Manoj Kumar Bindal, VSM, Executive Director, NIDM in his inaugural address highlighted that the world is experiencing more episodes of weather associated hazards such as intense heat waves, flooding, urban flooding, cloudbursts, flash floods, droughts, landslides, coastal hazards and so on. The Kedarnath tragedy (2013), inundation in Gujarat, Bihar, Maharashtra, North-east states, Kerala in recent years, slope failures due to unprecedented precipitation, thunderstorms and lightning in states of Bihar, Uttar Pradesh and other states are few examples of havoc propelled by the climate change in India. He underlined the aim of the webinar to sensitize the participants regarding assessment, forecast, preparedness and mitigation of Climate Change and Extreme Weather Events, understanding adverse effects of Climate Change and Extreme Weather Events, technical knowledge and available resources for timely response and recovery. The webinars also aims to highlight scientific and engineering endeavors aimed at addressing critical gaps in knowledge. He also highlighted that there is a need to understand the salient features of Climate Change and Extreme Weather Events and associated hazards and guidance for early warning and communication, keeping in mind system gap areas, challenges and opportunities. Dr. D.R. Pattanaik, Sc-F, India Meteorological Department gave a detail presentation on Climate Change and Extreme Weather Events where he stressed about the climate system, climate variability and climate change, observed climate change over India, observed climate change and extreme weather, future climate scenario, implications of climate change on disaster management. Climate change is affected to increase the frequency of flooding and heat waves in countries of South East Asia. This, combined with an expected increase in the intensity of cyclones in the Region as a result of warmer sea surface temperatures, would increase the future health risk of extreme weather events. He also added that the net health impact of future changes in these events also needs to account for expected changes in the characteristics of the affected populations and address the importance of single events. The result of these changes, all else equal, would be an increased health risk from future extreme weather events in countries of South East Asia. Prof. Kapil Gupta, IIT Bombay shared his experience and knowledge regarding preparing for Climate Change and Extreme Floods in Urban Areas. He mentioned that We are facing a climate emergency and Rising global temperatures, intense and uncertain weather patterns, unregulated development, urban forms increasing hard impermeable surfaces, exposure of urban populations to catastrophic flood, damage causing economic loss and inconvenience are some of the its consequences. He also stressed that there is a need for flood-resistant urban infrastructure resilient to both future climate uncertainties and increasing urbanization. He also discussed about Green roofs and infiltration, infiltration bed and infiltration tranches, ponding in roadside, porous pavements scope and application, rainwater harvesting etc. He also highlighted some recent advances in rainwater harvesting such as rainwater harvesting using solar cells, rooftop rainwater harvesting, Detention/Retention ponds and wetlands, Underground Storage Scheme. Prof. Surya Parkash, Head, GMR Division, NIDM initiated his presentation by explaining the Sendai framework and Sustainable Development Goal, Paris agreement, PM 10 points agenda in the light of climate change and extreme weather events. He also shared the information on National action plan for climate change. He also stressed upon implications of climate change for Disaster Risk Management (DRM) and shared examples of some past disasters. About 1170 participants marked their presence in the webinar via Cisco Webex platform and about 940 other viewed our youtube live streaming of the programme (Annexure Talbe 4).

Key Takeaways

The Webinar Series “Hydro-Meteorological Hazards Risk Reduction” organized by National Institute of Disaster Management (NIDM) in collaboration with India Meteorological Department was a very successful one. The webinar series received an overwhelming response from the participants where about 4,302 participants from various field and states attended the webinar and about 4,500 others viewed the live streaming of the webinar in Youtube. Some of the key takeaways highlighted during the webinar series are mentioned below:

- Hon’ble Union Minister of State for Home Affairs, Shri Nityanand Rai underlined need to promote PM Prime Minister’s 10-point agenda on Disaster Risk Reduction to carry out a holistic approach to disaster risk management and addresses a whole range of issues, from community preparedness to use of technology and international cooperation.
- IMD and NIDM will further enhance the forecasting abilities that will help to acquaint the occurrence of Hydro-Meteorological events in advance with more precision and will aid the relevant stakeholders and communities to take the appropriate prevention and mitigation measures.
- Improvements in forecasting cyclones and issuing early warnings to the public need more attention as both coastal populations and the occurrence of extreme storms continue to rise.
- NIDM, IMD, other govt. institutions and NGOs should come together to create a better warning dissemination system to reach to the people and save life from natural disasters
- NDMA and NIDM should also work on developing better policies regarding dissemination of informations
- Preparation of emergency action and evacuation plans at grass root level is the need of the hour to reduce or eliminate casualties and property losses.
- There is a need to reach to the community level such as community workers, volunteers, community radio, NGOs imparting knowledge, training and motivation to strengthen dissemination of warning and alerts issued by Nodel agencies regarding disaster occurrence.

- For developing countries like India, there is a need to emphasize mature regulatory regimes and we need to focus towards minimizing the critical “implementation gap” between the documents from mature regulatory systems and its specific adaptation to local cultural, economic, and political factors affecting compliance
- There is need for NIDM and IMD to increase public awareness, community outreach and train local populations about how to prepare for natural disasters.
- There is a need to develop advanced preparedness, mitigation and response plan to reduce the impact of hydro-meteorological hazards and we must focus to enhance the effectiveness and preparedness at the local level for effective incidence response plan.
- There is a need to enhancement the near Real-Time Decision Support for Disaster Management caused by Hydro-Meteorological Hazards namely thunder storms, lightening, cyclone, storm surges, cloud burst and floods etc.
- We need to implement adequate risk management and emergency management strategies to prepare for and respond to these challenges.
- There is need to promote awareness regarding usage of various weather forecasting and information related mobile apps such as Damini, TNSMART etc
- Apart from improving our early warning capabilities and dissemination systems, we need to focus on Information Education Communication (IEC) activities and NIDM has a big role in fulfilling this goal. There is a need to consider land-Use planning and zoning with utmost priority and it will enable planners to incorporate additional risk reduction strategies into planning decisions as DRR has become a priority for institutions and incorporation into specific legislation.
- There is need to focus on Community based disaster Management (CBDM) as the capacity of the communities to take warning issued and act promptly is not adequate.
- Community needs to be extremely prepared and accordingly the scientific forecasting and the dissemination of informations needs to be robust.

Coverage by different Press Information Bureau and organisations

One Day Training/Webinar on

Thunderstorms and lightning

14th July, 2020

Jointly Organized by

National Institute of Disaster
Management

Ministry of Home Affairs, Govt. of India

and

India Meteorological Department
Ministry Of Earth Sciences, Govt. of India

ABOUT NIDM

National Institute of Disaster Management (NIDM), Ministry of Home Affairs, Government of India is a premium institute and a Statutory Body (under Disaster Management Act 2005) for training, research, documentation, awareness and human resources and capacity development in the field of disaster mitigation and management. The institute lays emphasis on multi-stakeholder interdisciplinary cross-sectoral approach for an efficient proactive continuum disaster risk management based on participatory integrated multi-risk management concept. It aims towards a disaster free / resilient India.

ABOUT IMD

India Meteorological Department was established in 1875. It is the National Meteorological Service of the country and the principal government agency in all matters relating to meteorology and allied subjects.

- To take meteorological observations and to provide current and forecast meteorological information for optimum operation of weather-sensitive activities like agriculture, irrigation, shipping, aviation, offshore oil explorations, etc.
- To warn against severe weather phenomena like tropical cyclones, norwesters, duststorms, heavy rains and snow, cold and heat waves, etc., which cause destruction of life and property.
- To provide meteorological statistics required for agriculture, water resource management, industries, oil exploration and other nation-building activities.
- To conduct and promote research in meteorology and allied disciplines.

INTRODUCTION

Thunderstorm/Lightning, Dust/Hailstorm, Squall, and Strong wind are hazardous and cause risk to life and public property. There are potentially hazardous for aviation sector as well in addition to transport, power, communication and other socio-economic sectors. Thunderstorms have some important characteristic such as formation of Squall, strong updraft and down draft, towering cumulonimbus associated with turbulence and icing, in cloud electrification and associated lightning, localized Strong rain and hailstorm. Lightning being the flow of electric charges, any electrically conductive body can be affected by lightning. Hence the electrical appliances if operated during lightning period can be affected by lightning. Similarly, the living beings coming in contact with lightning directly or indirectly through electrical conductors can be affected, often leading to death.

Lightning strikes the Earth 50 to 100 times each second. Over 20, 000 people get affected by lightning all over the world and several thousand die due to lightning strike every year. The population density, literacy rate and urbanization along with lightning density and topography of the region play important role on number of lightning deaths.

Lightning is also one of the Weather related Natural Disasters which normally is associated with Thunderstorms. During Lightning, due to the friction between the ice particles in the cloud, a sudden electrostatic discharge occurs between electrically charged regions of a cloud called intracloud lightning (IC), between Cloud to Cloud (CC lightning), or between a cloud and the ground (CG lightning). The charged regions in the atmosphere temporarily equalize themselves through this discharge referred to as a flash. A lightning flash can also be a strike if it involves an object on the ground. Lightning creates light in the form of black body radiation from the very hot plasma created by the electron flow, and sound in the form of thunder.

The lightning causes several deaths and loss of property across India. In India every year more than 2500 people die due to lightning (Source: Annual Report, NCRB). From 1967 to 2012, lightning accounted for about 39 per cent of deaths that resulted from Natural Disasters in India. In the year 2013, about 2,833 and 2014 about 2582 people died due to lightning strikes and in 2015 about 2,641 people lost their life due to this natural disaster. In the recent weather event over northwest India during May 2018, severe dust storms, thunderstorms, and lightning hit several parts of India, resulting in the death of at least 124 people and injuries to 300 others across five states (Rajasthan, Uttar Pradesh, Telangana, Uttarakhand, and Punjab) also caused similar loss of life and property. Maharashtra records highest deaths due to lightning in India. Specially Marathawad and Vidrabha region of Maharashtra shows highest death in India.

The increase in occurrence and severity is a wake-up call for all agencies to take appropriate action for prevention, preparedness and mitigation in order to save lives, livestock, property and infrastructure. It becomes a challenge for disaster managers to take preventive and mitigation measures through preparation of action plan. There is a need to understand the salient features of thunderstorms and associated weather phenomena and guidance for early warning and communication, keeping in mind system gap areas, challenges and opportunities.

ABOUT THE WEBINAR

NIDM in collaboration with IMD is conducting a Webinar on "Thunderstorms and Lightning" on 14 July 2020 from 11:00 AM to 12:30 PM.

AIM OF THE WEBINAR

The aim of the webinar is to sensitize the participants regarding assessment, forecast, preparedness and mitigation of thunderstorms & Lightning, understanding adverse effects of thunderstorms & Lightning, technical knowledge and available resources for timely response and recovery. The webinars also aims to highlight scientific and engineering endeavors aimed at addressing critical gaps in knowledge.

PROGRAMME DETAILS

The programme details including the tentative schedule of the training and the likely resource persons will be provided separately before the programme.

TARGET GROUP

The target group for this programme would be middle and senior level functionaries from the central and state governments representing particularly offices engaged with development in hill area as well as relevant institutes / organizations / agencies. The nodal officers for disaster management amongst them will be the key stakeholders to work in a coherent and coordinated manner with other ministries, departments and organizations as well as NDMA, MHA, NIDM, State Revenue and Disaster Management Department, SDMA, DDMA, SDRFs, QRTs, NDRF, ATIs, SIRDs, Police, Researchers, Academicians and other stakeholders working in this subject area.

Date

The programme will be organized online on 21st July 2020.

Registration

- There is no registration fee for the participants

INTRODUCTION

Flood is most common and recurrent natural disaster in our country. India is highly vulnerable to floods and out of the total geographical area of 329 mha, more than 40 mha is flood prone (NDMA). Floods causes huge loss of lives and damage to livelihood system, property, infrastructure and public utilities. It is a cause for concern that the flood related damages are showing an increasing trend. It is estimated that goods and assets worth more than 1000 crores are lost every year due to the furies of floods. Eighty per cent of the precipitation takes place in the monsoon months from June to September. The rivers bring heavy sediment load from the catchments. These, coupled with inadequate carrying capacity of the rivers are responsible for causing floods, drainage congestion and erosion of river-banks. Cyclones, cyclonic circulations and cloud bursts cause flash floods and lead to huge losses.

Cloud burst is one of the reasons of flash flood in hilly regions. Such events have caused heavy loss of life and property due to its devastating nature in terms of landslides and boulder movement along with shooting velocity of water which results in heavy change of momentum and hence the force. Often, these flash floods are associated with very small areal extent, less duration of storm and remoteness of location.

Bihar is India's most flood-prone state, with 76% population in the North Bihar living under the recurring threat of flood devastation. Depression and cyclonic storms in the coastal areas of Orissa, West Bengal, Andhra Pradesh, Karnataka, and Tamil Nadu also cause flash floods. Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Orissa, Himachal Pradesh, Uttarakhand, the Western Ghats in Maharashtra and Kerala are more vulnerable to flash floods caused by cloud bursts. Sudden release of waters from upstream reservoirs, breaches in landslide dams and embankments on the banks of the rivers leads to disastrous floods. Severe floods in Himachal Pradesh in August 2000 and June 2005, and in Arunachal Pradesh in 2000 are a few examples of flash floods caused by breaches in landslide dams. Floods in Assam, Bihar, Uttar Pradesh, Orissa and Andhra Pradesh are generally caused by breaches in embankments. Incidents of high intensity rainfall over short durations, which cause flash floods even in the area where rains are rare phenomena, are on the rise and the problem needs to be tackled in a scientific manner. Recent events of urban floods include 2013 Uttarakhand floods due to cloud burst and Kashmir deluge due to torrential rainfall; 2015, Chennai deluge; floods in Assam and Madhya Pradesh in 2016. In 2019, state of Kerala had suffered from severe flood due to heavy rainfall in the Monsoon season, over 470 people died and properties worth US$5.8 billion were damaged.

The increase in occurrence and severity is a wake-up call for all agencies to take appropriate action for prevention, preparedness and mitigation in order to save lives, livestock, property and infrastructure. It becomes a challenge for disaster managers to take preventive and mitigation measures through preparation of action plan. There is a need to understand the salient features of cloudburst, floods and associated hazards and guidance for early warning and communication, keeping in mind system gap areas, challenges and opportunities.

One Day Training/Webinar on Cyclones and Storm Surges 28th July, 2020

Jointly Organized by

National Institute of Disaster
Management

and

India Meteorological Department
Ministry of Earth Sciences, Govt. of India

ABOUT NIDM

National Institute of Disaster Management (NIDM), Ministry of Home Affairs, Government of India is a premium institute and a Statutory Body (under Disaster Management Act 2005) for training, research, documentation, awareness and human resources and capacity development in the field of disaster mitigation and management. The institute lays emphasis on multi-stakeholder interdisciplinary cross-sectoral approach for an efficient proactive continuum disaster risk management based on participatory integrated multi-risk management concept. It aims towards a disaster free / resilient India.

ABOUT IMD

India Meteorological Department was established in 1875. It is the National Meteorological Service of the country and the principal government agency in all matters relating to meteorology and allied subjects.

- To take meteorological observations and to provide current and forecast meteorological information for optimum operation of weather-sensitive activities like agriculture, irrigation, shipping, aviation, offshore oil explorations, etc.
- To warn against severe weather phenomena like tropical cyclones, norwesters, duststorms, heavy rains and snow, cold and heat waves, etc., which cause destruction of life and property.
- To provide meteorological statistics required for agriculture, water resource management, industries, oil exploration and other nation-building activities.
- To conduct and promote research in meteorology and allied disciplines.

INTRODUCTION

Of India's 7,500 kilometer coastline, almost 5,700 kilometers are highly vulnerable to the impacts of tropical cyclones and related hydro-meteorological hazards and consequently to recurrent loss of life and properties. It is now well recognized that by taking long and short term mitigation measures, the loss of life and properties can be minimized. Though the frequency of Tropical Cyclones (TCs) in the NIO covering the Bay of Bengal and the Arabian Sea is the least in the world (7% of the global total), their impact on the east coast of India as well as the Bangladesh coast is relatively more devastating. This is evident from the fact that in the last 270 years, 21 of the 23 major cyclones (with a loss of about 10,000 lives or more) worldwide occurred over the area surrounding the Indian subcontinent (India and Bangladesh). This is primarily due to the serious storm tide effect in the area.

Thirteen coastal states and Union Territories (UTs) in the country, encompassing 84 coastal districts, are affected by tropical cyclones. Four states (Tamil Nadu, Andhra Pradesh, Orissa and West Bengal) and one UT (Puducherry) on the east coast and one state (Gujarat) on the west coast are more vulnerable to hazards associated with cyclones. Analysed data for the period 1980-2000 shows that on an average, annually 370 million people are exposed to cyclones in India. Cyclones occur in the month of May-June and October-November, with primary peak in November and secondary peak in May. Although cyclones affect the entire coast of India the East Coast is more prone compared to the West Coast. An analysis of the frequencies of cyclones on the East and West coasts of India during 1891-2000 show that nearly 308 cyclones (out of which 103 were severe) affected the East Coast. During the same period 48 tropical cyclones crossed the West Coast, of which 24 were severe cyclonic storms. Out of the cyclones that develop in the Bay of Bengal, over 58 percent approach and cross the East Coast in October and November. Only 25 % of the cyclones that develop over the Arabian Sea approach the West Coast. In the pre-monsoon season, corresponding figures are 25 percent over Arabian sea and 30 percent over Bay of Bengal.

Hazard risk mitigation is a key to sustainable development and this has been the policy of Govt. of India which lays greater emphasis on prevention, preparation and mitigation (NDMA), keeping this in view, Govt. of India run a pilot project i.e., National Cyclone Risk Mitigation Project (NCRMP) being implemented through World Bank Assistance to reduce the impact of cyclone. IMD is the nodal agency for forecasting cyclone in our country. The IMD has considerably increased its efforts in recent years in the areas of tropical cyclone forecasting and verification.

The increase in occurrence and severity is a wake-up call for all agencies to take appropriate action for prevention, preparedness and mitigation in order to save lives, livestock, property and infrastructure. It becomes a challenge for disaster managers to take preventive and mitigation measures through preparation of action plan. There is a need to understand the salient features of Cyclones and Storm Surges and associated hazards and guidance for early warning and communication, keeping in mind system gap areas, challenges and opportunities.

ABOUT THE SEMINAR

NIDM in collaboration with IMD is conducting a Webinar on "Cyclones and Storm Surges" on 28th July 2020 from 11:00 AM to 12:30 PM.

AIM

The aim of the webinar is to sensitize the participants regarding assessment, forecast, preparedness and mitigation of Cyclones and Storm Surges, understanding adverse effects of Cyclones and Storm Surges technical knowledge and available resources for timely response and recovery. The webinars also aims to highlight scientific and engineering endeavors aimed at addressing critical gaps in knowledge.

PROGRAMME DETAILS

The programme details including the tentative schedule of the training and the likely resource persons will be provided separately before the programme.

TARGET GROUP

The target group for this programme would be middle and senior level functionaries from the central and state governments representing particularly offices engaged with disaster management as well as relevant institutes / organizations / agencies. The nodal officers for disaster management amongst them will be the key stakeholders to work in a coherent and coordinated manner with other ministries, departments and organizations as well as NDMA, MHA, NIDM, State Revenue and Disaster Management Department, SDMA, DDMA, SDRFs, QRTs, NDRF, ATIs, SIRDs, Police, Researchers, Academicians and other stakeholders working in this subject area.

Date

The programme will be organized online on 4th August, 2020.

Registration

- There is no registration fee for the participants
- Registration for the webinar is through google forms. All participants are requested to fill the forms free of cost at the link below

INTRODUCTION

Albeit, earth has been experiencing the phenomenon of climate change since its inception but in current era it is of greater concern due to the rapid rate and the magnitude in which the changes are materializing. The bigger threat imposed by the climate change is the augmentation in intensity and frequency of the extreme weather related events. The world is experiencing more episodes of weather associated hazards such as intense heat waves, flooding, urban flooding, cloudbursts, flash floods, droughts, landslides, coastal hazards and so on. The Kedarnath tragedy (2013), inundation in Gujarat, Bihar, Maharashtra, North-east states, Kerala in recent years, slope failures due to unprecedented precipitation, thunderstorms and lightning in states of Bihar, Uttar Pradesh and other states are few examples of havoc propelled by the climate change in India.

Today more than half of global population belongs to cities. The increasing concentration of population is exposing greater number of people to the window of climate change vulnerability, especially in developing countries. The phenomenon of urban heat island in which the gradient of core city temperature is higher than that of its outer surrounding, shows how the built environment created by the human institutes its own kind of micro climate as consequences of alteration in land-use and land-cover. The intensity of such trends will further intensify due to changing climatic conditions exposing urbanites to extreme weather related hazards. The urban dwellers along with the key services in urban areas such as energy, transportation, health, water supply and wastewater management, sanitation, solid waste management and communication will be at risk enforced by the climate change and extreme weather events. The risks involved include losses of lives, economic and disruption in the smooth functioning of the cities. The impact of climate change and resultant extreme weather events impacts each and every region inconstantly and to combat the challenges we need cross-cutting, cross-departmental and cross-sectoral holistic approaches. Mainstreaming action plans for climate change in urban planning is the need of the hour.

The increase in occurrence and severity is a wake-up call for all agencies to take appropriate action for prevention, preparedness and mitigation in order to save lives, livestock, property and infrastructure. It becomes a challenge for disaster managers to take preventive and mitigation measures through preparation of action plan. There is a need to understand the salient features of Climate Change and Extreme Weather Events and associated hazards and guidance for early warning and communication, keeping in mind system gap areas, challenges and opportunities.
