Day-1

Inaugural Session

Prof. Surya Parkash, Head, GMR Division, National Institute of Disaster Management welcomed all the dignitaries in the inaugural session. During his welcome address he also underlined the importance of the programme to enhance recognition of the vital role of universities in implementation- oriented education and research in disaster risk reduction and related field.

Major General Manoj Kumar Bindal, VSM, ED NIDM delivered the keynote address and highlighted the need for some minimum course content for universities which should be compulsory for every DRR course. He also added that specialization in the relevant fields of DRR is mostly unavailable which leads to difficulty in allotment of faculty – based on their specialization or asking faculty to develop in new areas of teaching- as per needs of the programme/ discipline. He also mentioned that to address the commitment of India and keeping the importance of Universities and Institutions, India Universities and Institutions Network for Disaster Risk Reduction (IUINDRR-NIDM) is being established by NIDM. In this network, besides NIDM, several esteemed Universities and Institutions will come together to share knowledge, resources related to disaster risk management amongst themselves and to the larger group of stakeholders working on DRR.

Prof. Gurmeet Singh, Vice Chancellor Pondicherry University delivered the special address in the inaugural address and highlighted the importance of such online programs in dissemination of information on disaster risk reduction and resilience.

Shri S N Pradhan (IPS), DG NDRF delivered the special address in the inaugural address and highlighted the need of youth of India to be disaster prepared/disaster ready to facilities any disaster response efforts. He also highlighted the need to focus on disaster responders in every universities and every university much have a first responder trainers to teach the students. Not only NDRF, SDRF and other special responders has the responsibility to response in disaster situation but every possible member of the community has to pitch in times of need.

Lt. Gen Syed Ata Hasnain, PVSM, UYSM, AVSM, SM, VSM & BAR (Retd), Member NDMA during his special address in the training programme focused on need to acknowledged and leveraged Women's skills, knowledge about their communities and contributions by formally allocating roles and responsibilities to them. This can be done by engaging women in recovery planning and implementation, developing their capacity to become recovery leaders, and by protecting and promoting their livelihoods.

Prof. Annpurna Nautiyal, Vice Chancellor, Hemvati Nandan Bahuguna Garhwal University in her special address highlighted the need to collaborate and corporate among various institutions by means of MOUs to promote exchange of resource, information and knowledge. We have to come up with innovative ideas to share and work together (bilaterally or multilaterally) in promoting disaster risk reduction in higher education (focusing on, but not restricted to, post-graduate education).

Shri Ramesh Pokhriyal Nishank, Education Minister, Ministry of Education, Govt. of India

graced the inaugural session of the training programme as chief guest of the programme. Shri Ramesh Pokhriyal Nishank conveyed his best wishes to NIDM via video message and also highlighted the need for training programme.

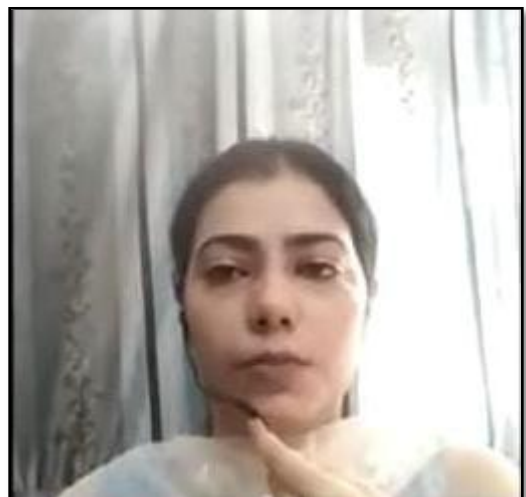

Technical Session

Prof. Surya Parkash, Head, GMR Division, National Institute of Disaster Management delivered the first lecture of the technical session and talked about the Concepts of HVCR. During his presentation, he highlighted the use of technology platforms such as SWAYAM / DIKSHA for online training of teachers must be encouraged, so that standardized training programmes can be administered to large numbers of teachers within a short span of time.

Dr. Harjeet Kaur, YP NIDM delivered the second lecture of the training programme and talked about the Disaster Management Act 2005 with role and responsibilities of ministries, agencies, departments etc. During her lecture, she highlighted that in India the concept of disaster management has evolved from an activity based arrangements or setup on purely temporary basis. In the initial stage, the arrangement or setup was simply reactive. Gradually it became a proactive institutionalized structures; from single faculty domain to a multi-stakeholders structures/setup and from a relief-based approach to a ‘multidimensional proactive holistic approach’. He also discussed various chapters in DM act 2005.

Mr. Raju Thapa, YP, GMR Division, NIDM discussed the Sandai Framework for Disaster Risk reduction, Sustainable development goals, Paris agreement, PM’10 point agenda. During his lecture he mentioned that Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi has outlined a 10-point agenda for efforts towards disaster risk reduction, in an address he delivered at the Asian Ministerial Conference on Disaster Risk Reduction in 2016. Agenda 6 of the PM 10 point agenda also emphasizes on developing a network of Universities to work on disaster issues. We also discussed that by year 2030 India is committed to reduce the disaster impact on life and property to its minimum and hence given its global commitment for achieving the set targets and goals of international agreements by 2030.

Day-2

Inaugural Session

Prof. Annpurna Nautiyal, Vice Chancellor, Hemvati Nandan Bahuguna Garhwal University in her special address highlighted the need to provide a platform for interface between academia and policy across the country in different states.

Prof. Saket Kushwaha, Vice Chancellor Rajiv Gandhi University, Arunachal Pradesh in his special address in the inaugural session highlighted the need to broaden the scope of education and learning in disaster risk reduction field through collaboration with diverse stakeholders including NGOs, private sectors, media and local governments.

Technical session

Dr Mritunjaya Mahapatra, DGM IMD delivered the first lecture in the technical session. During his lecture he underlined that still there are gaps in technology vis-à-vis capability in cyclone forecasting. We need to work on decreasing the gap in scientific understanding required for better forecasting that includes detailed structure and dynamics of cyclone, interaction between cyclones, ocean, and the surround environment, internal physical and dynamical processes in clouds. The gaps in observation and modeling system for cyclone forecasting with high spatial resolution need to be considered for future perspective.

Prof. David Alexander, University College London (UCL) delivered the second lecture on The Game Changes: New Imperatives and New Directions in Disaster Risk Reduction. During his lecture he underlined the need to balance vulnerability and resilience for effective disaster management. He discussed that resilience is indeed a multi-facat and refers to the ability of individuals, societies or socio-economic systems to cope with the sudden impact of crises or disasters, and to restore as quickly as possible their ability to function and their capacity to act. He also stressed that we have to come up with innovative solutions to manage cascading disaster risks. We have to invest in complex risk scenario planning supported by systemic risk assessments for multiple hazards. He also discussed that we need to promote disaster risk reduction measures as a public good, build financial resilience through scaling risk financing, insurance and risk transfer for natural hazards and pandemics, build a regional social innovation ecosystem that links the multisectoral approaches for disaster risk reduction together, deepen regional cooperation for integrated disaster early warning systems in South Asia.

Prof. Chandan Ghosh, Civil Engineering, IIT Jammu during his lecture on Disaster Resilient Infrastructures provided some real solution to enhance our resilience to various disasters. He mentioned that enhanced resilience allows better anticipation of disasters and better planning to reduce disaster losses-rather than waiting for an event to occur and paying for it afterward. Increasing disaster resilience is an imperative that requires the collective will of the nation and its communities. Although disasters will continue to occur, actions that move the nation from reactive approaches to disasters to a proactive stance where communities actively engage in enhancing resilience will reduce many of the broad societal and economic burdens that disasters can cause.

Inaugural session

Prof. Vinod Kumar Jain, Vice Chancellor Tezpur University rightly mentioned that In India the concept of disaster management has evolved from an reactive approach to gradually ‘multidimensional proactive holistic approach’. He also emphasized on providing a platform for interface between academia and policy across the country in different states.

Prof. H S Yadav, Director, North Eastern Regional Institute of Science and Technology also underlined the Disaster Risk Reduction (DRR) education is crucial for all communities living in disaster prone areas. It's a huge task to be achieved in a very short period of time by building a sustainable system. Sir pointed out that this is possible only when we build partnerships with different stakeholders and synergize our efforts. Universities and Institutes including private universities like Prof. Vinod Kumar Jain mentioned can play a major role in shifting the narratives for disaster risk reduction for the future by its education, research, debates, dialogue and policy advocacy.

Technical session

Shri. Randeep Kumar Rana, DIG (Ops), from National Disaster Response Force; Government of India discussed the role of NDRF and discussed that NDRF is a specialised force constituted “for the purpose of specialist response to a threatening disaster situation or disaster” under the Disaster Management Act, 2005. He also highlighted that NDRF has proved its importance in achieving this vision by highly skilled rescue and relief operations, regular and intensive training and re-training, familiarization exercises within the area of responsibility of respective NDRF Battalions, carrying out mock drills and joint exercises with the various stakeholders.

Maj. Gen (Retd.) Dr. V. K Naik, Senior Consultant NDMA talked about the Institutional Mechanism for response and mock exercise. During his lecture, he discussed the role of universities in research and development, community awareness, social media, lead NCC,

NSS and volunteers etc

Shri P. P. Shrivastava, IAS (Retd.), Member, NDMA Advisory Board shared his vast knowledge and experience and stressed upon the encouragement of traditional knowledge in dealing with disaster. Traditional knowledge holds the element of those ancient stories, myths and folklores which, according to the modern scientific worldview, does not have any rational explanation because the scientific knowledge system does not believe in subjective reality. Measurement, experimentation and verification are one of the prime steps of scientific modern knowledge. However, modern scientific society forgets that those ancient stories and folklores have been developed through centuries-old experiences with the natural environment.

Day-4

Prof. Kapil Gupta, IIT Bombay shared his experience and knowledge regarding preparing for Climate Change and Extreme Floods in Urban Areas. He mentioned that we are facing a climate emergency and Rising global temperatures, intense and uncertain weather patterns, unregulated development, urban forms increasing hard impermeable surfaces, exposure of urban populations to catastrophic flood, damage causing economic loss and inconvenience are some of the its consequences. He also stressed that there is a need for flood resistant urban infrastructure resilient to both future climate uncertainties and increasing urbanization. He also discussed about Green roofs and infiltration, infiltration bed and infiltration tranches, ponding in roadside, porous pavements scope and application, rainwater harvesting etc. He also highlighted some recent advances in rainwater harvesting such as rainwater harvesting using solar cells, rooftop rainwater harvesting, Detention/Retention ponds and wetlands, Underground Storage Scheme etc.

Sh. Sharad Chandra, Director (FFM), CWC discussed the increase in intensity and frequency of extreme weather events. He also stressed upon the non-uniformity of rainfall in space and time. Sh. Sharad Chandra also discussed the types of floods, flood risk, flood prone regions in India, flood forecasting and modernization in flood forecasting.

Sh. Anil Kathait, YP, NIDM shared his lecture on landslide issues and management. He also discussed the reason of slope instability such as inherent or basic conditions and external factors. He also highlighted several initiatives taken on national interventions such as GSI declared as the 'Nodal Agency', technical advisory committee, national landslide susceptibility mapping, codes and guidelines related to different facets of landslides.

Day- 5

Prof. Ravi Sinha, IIT Bombay highlighted basic concepts of earthquake the different elements that should be incorporated in Earthquake risk management strategies, calculating the consequences of earthquake and components to manage them like effectiveness coordination of different stakeholders. He talked about the earthquake risk, hazards, vulnerability, exposure etc. He also cited an example of earthquake scenario with magnitude of $M_w = 8.0$ with epicentre at Mandi on Main boundary Thrust (MBT). Faculty member have to take lead through dialogue with the university leadership and, if required, the UGC/AICTE/DoE.

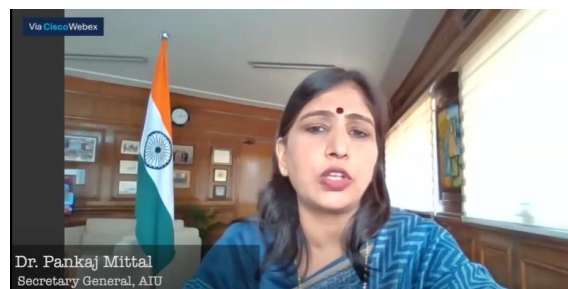

Dr. Rajendra Singh, "Waterman of India"

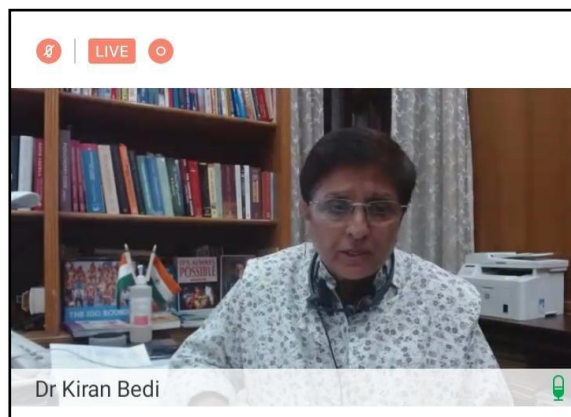

provided insights on his decades of endeavours for conserving the water resources in the state of Rajasthan. Groundwater recharge is one important way this can happen. Recharge simply refers to the replenishing of groundwater resources. This process would regularly happen naturally through rain and snowmelt. It can also be artificially induced. The important calculus is that recharge has to happen at a greater rate than water is pumped out of the aquifer.

Dr. Pankaj Mittal, Secretary General, AIU in the valedictory session mentioned that the five day training programme will lead to enhancement of faculty's skills in all the five desired domains, i.e., teaching, assessment, curriculum support, organizational leadership and mentoring. Professional organizations and experts have recommended FDPs for greater awareness and attainment of knowledge in teaching and learning in various aspects of disaster management. She also highlighted several issues such as shortage/absence of dedicated funding for universities in DRR. She also highlighted the need to cope up with the issue of non-availability of data for study & research- data gaps. There are limited employment opportunities in disaster a management sector demotivating student which needs to be looked up very seriously.

Dr. Kiran Bedi, IPS (Retd.), Lt. Governor of Puducherry was the chief guest of the valedictory session of the training programme and mentioned that such Faculty development program (FDP) has are stand-alone educational pedagogy in fostering knowledge and professional skills of faculty. The professional development and academic stature of an institution's faculty members are connected to its educational vivacity. This dynamic and energetic five day training programme will lead to enhancement of faculty's skills in all the five desired domains, i.e., teaching, assessment, curriculum support, organizational leadership and mentoring. Professional organizations and experts have recommended FDPs for greater awareness and attainment of knowledge in teaching and learning in various aspects of disaster management. She also point out that Women empowerment is the pivotal part in any society, state or country.

Key takeaways

- There is a need to enhance recognition of the vital role of universities in implementation-oriented education and research in disaster risk reduction and related field.

5-days Faculty Development Programme: Teachers' Training On Disaster Management

INTRODUCTION

Section 36 and 37 of the Chapter 4 in the Disaster Management Act 53 of 2005 envisages the Ministries to undertake responsibilities for disaster risk assessment, prevention, mitigation, preparedness and response. The DM Act also mandates every Ministry / Department to prepare its Disaster Management Plan covering various dimensions and aspects of disaster risk reduction and resilience as well as capacity enhancement and financial strategies for it.

National Institute of Disaster Management (NIDM) has been mandated under the DM Act to support Government and other stakeholders in policy, planning and capacity enhancement including training, research, documentation, publication etc. in order to mainstream disaster risk reduction and resilience across different sectors in the Ministries / Departments (Section 42(9) of the DM Act). The Institute has nominated its faculty members as Nodal Officers for coordination with Central Ministries, vide Office Memorandum of even number dated 20th August 2018.

In pursuance to mandate envisaged under Disaster Management Act 2005, NIDM proposes a 5-days Faculty Development Programme on “Disaster Management” during 21st – 25th September 2020 for the faculties/teachers/researchers/officers / functionaries of the relevant Ministries/Departments/ Institutions to share and exchange knowledge/information on Disaster Risk Reduction and Resilience including some important national initiatives and international agreements / frameworks on DRR including Disaster Management Act, National Disaster Management Plan, National Disaster Management Policy, Standard Operational Procedures on Disaster Management and various Guidelines on different types of disasters and related functions, (SFDRR), Climate change (COP21), sustainable development (SDGs), urbanization agenda and Prime Minister’s 10 point agenda in disaster management. The FDP will focus on preparation of Disaster Management Plan highlighting strategies to build back better for exiting development and build to last for upcoming development activities by the respective ministry/department /institute.

OBJECTIVES

NIDM is organizing FDP to providing research and teaching skill enhancement programmes for fellow faculty of Universities and Institutes of India. The Faculty Development Programmes are carefully designed to bridge the gap in quality research and teaching skills that are required in the field of Disaster Management education in India. To develop better understanding about Disaster Risk Reduction and Resilience (DRR&R)

1. To learn about the relevant Act, Policy, Plan, Guidelines, SOPs and PM’s 10 Point Agenda on Disaster Management in the country
2. To know about the important international agreements and declarations on disaster risk reduction, climate change, urbanization and sustainable development

3. To initiate activities on formulation of disaster management plan for their functional and geographical regimes
4. To discuss the collaboration and strengthening mechanisms for effective implementation of disaster management related activities.

TOPICS TO BE COVERED

1. Concepts of HVCR and Disasters Risk profile
2. Hydrometeorological related hazards like cyclone, flooding, and drought
3. Geohazards namely: Earthquake, tsunami, landslides, cloud burst and flash flood
4. Climate change and extreme weather events
5. Roles and responsibilities of different stakeholders
6. Community Based Multi-hazard Risk Reduction and Resilience
7. Act, Policy, Plan, Guidelines, SOPs and PM10 point agenda on Disaster Risk Reduction
8. International Agreements on DRR, Development and Climate Change
9. Early Warning Communication for disaster risk reduction
10. Case studies
