Preface

Our mission towards developing safer communities.....

Government of Tamil Nadu by an Act of State Legislature [Act No.43 of 1997] established the Tamil Nadu Dr.Ambedkar Law University for the advancement and dissemination of knowledge in learning, teaching and research in the field of law. His Excellency Shri. K.R. Narayanan, former President of India inaugurated it on September 20, 1997, and the University started from October 3, 1997 onwards. The University was named after the architect of the Indian Constitution Dr. B.R. Ambedkar. The University is recognized by the Bar Council of India (BCI) and University Grants Commission (UGC) (Sec. 2f and 12b of the UGC Act.). The University is also a member of the Association of Indian Universities (AIU), Association of Common Wealth Universities, U.K. and Indian Institute of Public Administration, New Delhi. This University is functioning as nodal agency to uplift the legal education in the State of Tamil Nadu. The University is the first full-fledged sui generis Law University in the country; it is unique among all the Law Universities in the Country. The University is the first full-fledged Law University that offers Legal Education only through this University and its affiliated colleges in the State and the University is the first of its kind not only in the country but also in South Asia.

Natural hazards are inevitable. Time and again, we witness the horrible impact of calamities. The last decade showed a tremendous increase in the annual occurrence of natural hazards. These hazards increasingly have had an impact on the livelihoods of vulnerable people, more specifically on their economic situation, their food security and health conditions especially the Covid-19 pandemic.

It is in this context, The Tamil Nadu Dr Ambedkar Law University, Chennai has been dynamically engaged in disaster preparedness and response operations in-order to minimize or address issues during calamities. We also endeavor to develop safer communities resilient towards disasters by strengthening institutional/ individual capacities, building partnerships, identifying the disaster risk management needs, and mainstreaming risk reduction measures in our projects and programs.

From the Vice-Chancellor's Desk

At the outset, I would like to express my sincere thanks to Major General Manoj Kumar Bindal, VSM, Executive Director, National Institute of Disaster Management (NIDM), New Delhi for the encouragement in organizing this training programme.

I am particularly thankful to all the resources persons for their fruitful technical sessions, discussions, and valued contributions in making this training programme a success. I acknowledge Professor Sarwani's organizing abilities and the hard work of all the committee members which has reflected in the success of this programme. I would also like to place on record the support rendered by the administrative staff of the TNDALU for this programmes success. I would like to congratulate the entire team for compiling voluminous report in a short span of time. It is gratifying to note that there was a huge positive response by the participants on all three days, but for whom this programme would not have succeeded.

This training is the outcome of dedicated team work and support from many persons and agencies. We are thankful to NIDM, MHA, and Government of India for entrusting us with this task and providing the overall guidance, motivating us and extending support in many ways.

At present, there are 10 departments in SOEL with well qualified and experienced faculty members catering to the academic needs of the students pursuing different courses that are offered. The University is striving to offer quality legal education under the stewardship of the Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor, Prof. Dr. N.S. Santhosh Kumar

The National Institute of Disaster Management, New Delhi

The National Institute of Disaster Management (NIDM) was constituted under an Act of Parliament with a vision to play the role of a premier institute for capacity development in India and the region. The efforts in this direction that began with the formation of the National Centre for Disaster Management (NCDM) in 1995 gained impetus with its redesignation as the National Institute of Disaster Management (NIDM) for training and capacity development. Under the Disaster Management Act 2005, NIDM has been assigned nodal responsibilities for human resource development, capacity building, training, research, documentation and policy advocacy in the field of disaster management.

Both as a national Centre and as a national Institute, NIDM is performing a crucial role in bringing disaster risk reduction to the forefront of the national agenda. The Institute believes that disaster risk reduction is possible only through promotion of a "Culture of Prevention" involving all stakeholders. The Institute works through strategic partnerships with various ministries and departments of the central, state and local governments, academic, research and technical organizations in India and abroad and other bi-lateral and multi-lateral international agencies.

About the Training Programme.

India is prone to a number of natural and man-made disasters that hinder the country's growth. Disaster response management requires the existing administrative set up and other stake holders to carry out a large number of tasks. Many studies reveal that during the times of disaster, lack of coordination exists amongst various government and other agencies. It is proved that if the response is planned and the stake holders are trained and equipped, there is no need for temporary measures as the immediate response itself will be smoother and effective.

India's vast coastline is highly vulnerable to the tropical cyclones and related hydro-meteorological hazards. The coastal states are also susceptible to the impact of tsunami, drought and floods. Studies show that loss due to the natural disaster equate to up to 2% of India's Gross Domestic Product (GDP) and up to 12% of Central government revenue. Due to the active intervention and training of the various stake holders and taking long, medium and short term mitigation measures, the loss of lives, economy, infrastructure and environment can be minimized. In addition to this, if the coastal communities are trained to become resilient against such disasters, they can recover from the post disaster situations and be better prepared for future risks. Hazard risk prevention and mitigation is a key to sustainable development and this has been the policy of Government of India which lays greater emphasis on prevention, preparation and mitigation. The programme will provide information about such documents and key points for disaster risk assessment, monitoring and management for efficient risk prevention, mitigation, preparedness, response and recovery efforts to reduce damages and losses in the coastal areas.

Day 2: National Training Programme, 22nd June 2021 (3 p.m. to 5.30 p.m.)

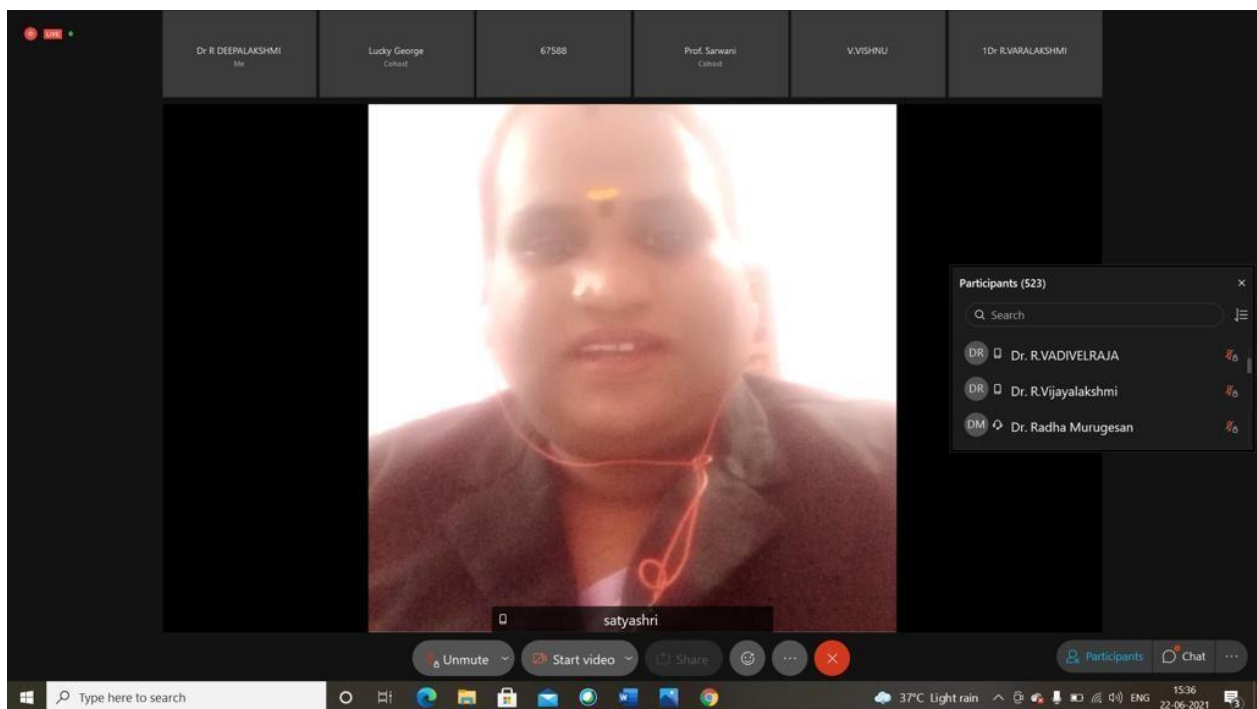

Theme: Current Pandemic: Community Crisis and Gender Challenges in Developing Countries

Dr. Ragitha Radhakrishnan, Head, Dept of Psychology, MGR Janaki College for Women, Chennai, on the topic, “Impact of Lockdown on Women” – expressed about the Status of Women in the society and the challenges faced by them due to COVID-19, such as Social, political issues on women. Women are generally earning less, hold less, save less, less job security, less access to social protections and so on. Because of this lockdown, many mothers have quit their jobs in the foreign countries. Most of the industries are hit by Covid-19, so women lost their jobs, mainly domestic workers. After Covid-19, significant increase in the women and men living in poverty by 2030.

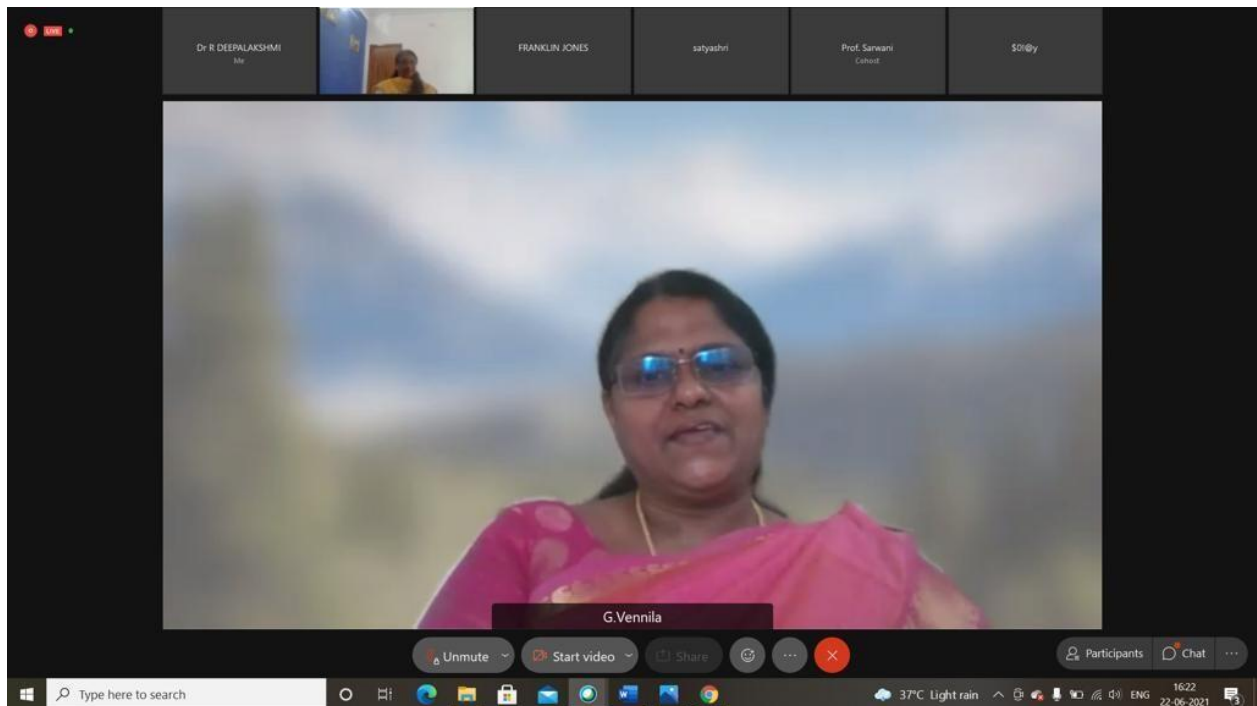

Advocate Sathyasri Sharmila, High Court of Madras, Chennai First Transgender Lawyer in India, under the head Current Pandemic and Challenges faced by Transgenders”, shared her experience that awareness about the transgenders, respect, opportunities are increased nowadays, but whether it is reaching them is questionable. Begging and sex work is the main business were carried by the transgenders normally, because of less opportunity in getting jobs. During this lockdown, even this activity is not able to carried out by them to lead their normal life. Compare to the normal people, income earning is the great struggle for the transgenders, house rent, medical expenses, are not able to spend by them. Cost of living without income is the big question for this group. From government side, Rs.2000 allowance is granted for the transgenders those who are having the identity

Card, only few are having and struggling in getting that card. Lack of Family support, society acceptance, and lack of job opportunity, irregular income, and family pressure creates mental stress, sexual abuse even from the family members. Both private and govt. should come forward to give more job opportunities for transgenders, changing HR policies. Discrimination from family, society, public places create a problem to them.

Dr. Vennila, Assistant Professor, Department of English, Bharati Women’s College (Autonomous), Chennai, on the discussion about “Lockdown and Increasing Cases of Violence against Women”, discussed about the domestic violence against women during this pandemic COVID-19, and its impact such as displacement of migrants, job losses, poverty, livelihood of women and highlighted the UN recommendations to ensure women’s safety that is ensure women’s equal representation in COVID-19 planning and decision-making, by addressing the care economy, paid or unpaid, address the socio-economic impact from target women and girls.

Prof. Dr. V. Balaji, Professor, TNDALU, Chennai, on the topic, “The Three Pillar Model of Sustainable Development Goal 2030 of UN and coastal Governance”, discussed about the total loss occurred in the coastal areas to due climate change and challenges of Costal Eco-System. Understanding disaster risk, enhancing disaster preparedness, disaster resilience fund, rehabilitee and reconstruction. Disaster management in India, should initiate Mitigation measures and projects, Preparedness, Rehabilitation. Disaster risk reduction with the participate of private societies, Indian government have applied comprehensive approach in building and revival of coastal communities in grater level. She has suggested the preventive measures during the lockdown period such as, by stop marginalizing the women from the public sphere, stop exploiting women resources and stop marginalizing violence as a private rather than public legal issue.

Dr. T. K. Vinod Kumar, IPS, Additional Director General of Police (ADGP) (Intelligence), Kerala, on the topic, “Role of Police in Controlling the spread of COVID-19”, discussed about the case of COVID-19 in India, challenges faced by the state administration. He highlighted the two components to the response of the administration is medical treatment and non-medical response in society. In that, Police has a role in the non-medical response such as quarantine the symptomatic person, ensuring the maintenance of social distancing by the people in the public areas and controlling the unnecessary movement of people during the lockdown period or time. He also highlighted the laws that has been used to combat against COVID-19. Enactment of the Kerala Epidemic Disease Ordinance (KEDO), on 27th March 2020, to notify any disease as an epidemic, to take special measures in controlling the spread of the disease and other laws such as IPC Sec 269, Kerala Police Act, sec 118(e) and Disaster Management Act, 2005. The central Govt., State Govt. the District Administration and the Local Self Government playing an important role to take measures during this pandemic. He also highlighted about the action to be taken by the police in enforcing effective lockdown, enduring social distancing and quarantine and helping the people in the low-income community. Triple lock – the innovative technique such as first lock by closing the district borders, second by locking the localities where covid-19 positive cases were reported and third lock by ensuring strict quarantine of all primary and secondary contacts of people who have tested positive. Challenges faced by the police such as enforcement of Police Health Laws, use of technology, interagency coordination, public service in risky areas.

Government mechanism 3 Accelerators: Economic stability, Education portals and enforcement of unique health initiatives throughout nation.

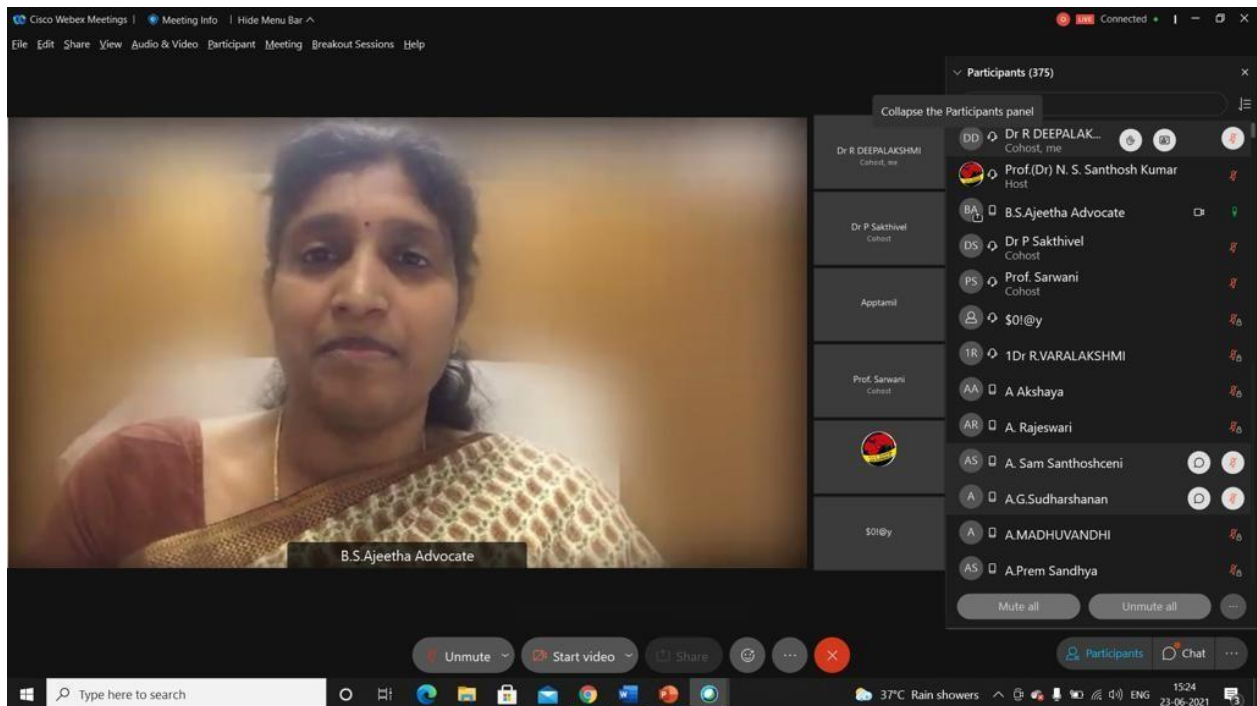

Speaker 2: Advocate Ms. Ajeetha G High Court of Madras, Chennai

“Lockdown impact on legal practitioners, litigants and working of Judiciary”

Ms. Ajeetha recorded the history of pandemics in the past that froze the litigation works of the judiciary. Present skeletal working of judiciary has led to added burden to existing state of docket bulging of 3.24 and hurdles to litigants to seek justice. Justice delayed is justice denied. Not only existing cases have come to a grinding halt, new litigations are also hindered, causing their personal liberty. Speedy trial which is an essential to rendering justice rightly, when denied, has led to untold miseries.

People also are subject to abuse by the Police department, where public is already subject to unpredicted financial and emotional losses. Extra judicial killings and custodial killings happen in pandemic like Sathankulam incident and many more in social media circulation. Job losses, unemployment, Child labour, crime rates, women suffocation, mental issues have all raised as per statistics, in the absence of counseling and streamlining.

Meagre number of cases registered registers the advocates have lost income from the profession that served their family's bread and butter. To mention, many judicial officers, over 300 advocates and court staffs have lost their lives to pandemic in the state, means their families and dependants are crippled. Young lawyers suffer even worse being in their initial stage of profession which has pushed them to take up other jobs, as subsidy provided is not good enough to make up. Technical cliches frequently occur in virtual court practices. She added that it is time to modernising the infrastructure and process in the Judiciary.

Speaker 3: Dr. C. Jerome Samraj

Assistant Professor, Pondicherry University, Puducherry

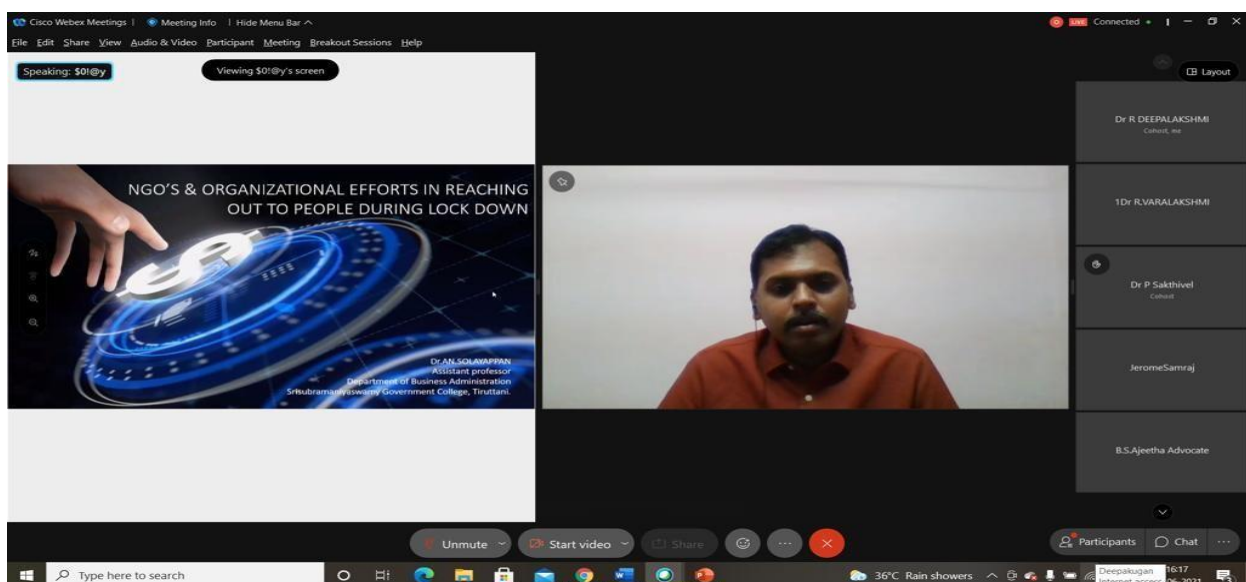

“Lockdown on an already Uncertain Livelihood: Life Risking Occupation and Struggles of Fishing Communities”

The speaker highlighted broadly the economic down fall and struggle for livelihood due to pandemic, which continues to harass us over a year since. H then narrowed down to vulnerable fishing community whose usually uncertain lifestyle is hit large by the pandemic. Their connect to modern developments, educational institutions are very limited. Pandemic restrictions over fishing impacted their pockets badly, who have no planned and accumulated savings or a long-term investment. Activities of fisher man who go to sea for fishing and women who involve in selling or cleaning has all been seized and sparce fish caught also do not meet the regular prices.

4: Dr. AN Solayappan, Assistant Professor, Sri Subramaniya Swamy Government College, Tiruttani.
Topic: “NGO’s and Other Organizational Efforts in Reaching Out to People during Lockdown”

In his speech, he has highlighted about the laws related to the registration for starting up the service as NGOs such as Indian Trust Act, Society Registration Act and Companies Act, and explained about the types, classification of NGOs and the means of raising the finance and the role played by them in helping out the people during this COVID-19 ad suggested as an NGOs, what are the dos and don’ts during the pandemic.

5. Prof (Dr) K S Sarwani , Professor, TNDALU, Chennai

Topic: Hunger Pandemic – Ensuring Food security to school children during lockdown

In this presentation, the resource person spoke about the negative impact of Covid 19 the pandemic on Ensuring food security to the school going children and children going anganwadis.

UNICEF warned about how this hunger pandemic is going to have a telling effect on the future generation also the future of the nation. School children are deprived of their nutritional intake and many children drop out of school if this situation continues. This also will have a cascading impact of many developmental goals like decrease in the literacy rate, increase in child labour, increase in child marriages and early pregnancy and related problems. It will affect the girl children more compared to boys. Decades of the development may be reversed feels the United Nations. Suggestions are given on how to ensure that nothing comes between the children and their mid-day meals. Public interest litigations were filed in the courts and court ordered that the government should ensure the supply of dry rations and eggs to the children.

The screenshot displays a Zoom meeting interface. On the left, a presentation slide titled "GENESIS IN TAMILNADU" is visible, listing historical milestones of the Mid-Day Meal Scheme (MDMS) in Tamil Nadu:

- In 1956 – Chief Minister Mr. K. Kamaraj launched MDMS.
- 1982 – Chief Minister Mr. M. G. Ramachandran expanded into a Nutritious Meal Programme and renamed as MGR Nutritious Noon Meal for School Children and Anganwadis.
- 1989-1991 – Dr. M. Karunanidhi added providing Egg for Non-vegetarian Children and Bananas for Vegetarians.
- In 2007 – the frequency of providing eggs increased twice in a week.
- During the period, when Chief Minister J. Jayalalitha ruled Tamil Nadu, expanded it further and added variety meals and other nutritious food.

MDMS During and After COVID-19 Lockdown

- ❖ Lockdown – Food Insecurity Force Street Children to Beg.
- ❖ Ensure Distribution of Eggs to students amid COVID-19 Pandemic, Madras HC to State.
- ❖ School kids to get Dry Ration for the vacation period in May under Mid-day Meal Scheme.

Suggestions

- ❖ In Tamil Nadu, especially in Chennai, there are 406 AMMA Canteen, in around 200 wards.
- ❖ It is working even during disasters like cyclone, flood, even during this pandemic COVID-19, in case schools are closed,
 - ❖ Tamil Nadu Govt. can take steps to provide hot cooked meals to the children staying near to such locality of AMMA CANTEEN, through some identity or Quota basis.
 - ❖ Schools to maintain records of parents jobs and their ration cards
 - ❖ If children are faraway, Tamil Nadu Govt. with the help of Anganwadis, can support or coordinate with the NGOs, Community Centres, stakeholders etc., to supply nutritious food to children.

Suggestions

- ❖ Send the student address and lists to concerned PDS from where dry ration can be given to students during crisis and also school holidays.
- ❖ For those without ration, school can send list to nearby ration shops and from there they can draw dry ration.
- ❖ All temples in Tami Nadu under religious board provide free meals in afternoon. When schools are closed list of students without ration can be sent to the board and it can be forwarded to temples in their vicinity from where they can get hot meals or from nearby Amma canteens. Separate counter for these schools and anganwadi kids can be kept in Amma canteend and temples where kids list can be kept and food prepared for them also.

World Vision India

Impact of COVID on Women & Girl Children

World Vision India

Impact of COVID on Gender

1. Women's Livelihood and income Security
2. Domestic Violence
3. Child marriage
4. Increased workload
5. Access to Sexual and Reproductive Health Services
6. Women's Health
7. Child trafficking

1. Women's Livelihoods and Income Security

- ✓ Between March and April 2020 alone, an estimated 17 million women in both the formal and informal sectors, were left jobless.
- ✓ Lesser time spent by women on their own businesses was the de-prioritisation of their own businesses within the household
- ✓ Enterprises faced a large drop in earnings, low sales and low customer footfall (Mint 2020)
- ✓ During the pandemic, more (72%) women-led enterprises reported cash shortages than male-led (53%) enterprises (studies by Buteau and Chandrasekhar 2020).

- 1 Guha Deepro and Kumar, Rohit: Advancing gender equality in a post COVID context: Gender sensitive policies to enhance food security and expand wage employment
- 2 Population Foundation of India: The Impact of COVID-19 on Women

2. Violence against women and girls

- ✓ Nearly, one in every five households of the sample have reported changed in the behavior of spouse after lockdown
- ✓ 40% of the total respondents of 463 have reported increased domestic violence since lockdown
- ✓ Among those who have reported change in spousal behavior, 53.6% reported increased squabble with their spouses.
- ✓ Significant reduction in household income is the main reason behind the increased squabble in couples.
- ✓ Around 31.2% of the respondents reported of being humiliated, threatened and emotionally tortured. However, 25% have reported increased physical violence

(Source : Rapid Assessment of Impact of COVID-19 on Life and Livelihood of Slum Dwellers in Indian Cities National Institute of Urban Affairs (NIUA) and World Vision India WVI

3. Child Marriage

Child Marriage

- ✓ India has the largest number of brides in the world – one-third of the global total.
- ✓ Estimates suggest that each year, at least 1.5 million girls under 18 get married in India,
- ✓ One in every three child bride lives in India (according to a UN Report),
- ✓ Child line India, a local charity, intervened in 5,333 such illegal marriages between March and May 2020

(<https://yourstory.com/herstory/2021/01/pandemic-child-marriage-girls-ngo-lockdown>)

4. Unpaid care work has increased,

- Prior to the crisis, women, on average, did three times unpaid work (domestic work, taking care of children and elderly) as men.
- With closures of schools, offices asking employees to work remotely, and social distancing measures in place, the workload of adolescent girls and women increased.
- As school closures continue and families remain at home during COVID-19, women's care work has increased by almost 30%.

5. Access to Sexual and Reproductive Health Services

- Access to menstrual hygiene supplies
- Decision and influence on Sanitation Need
- Access to toilet facilities & cleanliness
- Lack of sanitation facilities – increasing risk of vaginal infection
- Safe Place at home to change Disposable Pad/cloths During Menstruation (Lockdown)
- Due to restriction of movement disposal of sanitary products has become more difficult for adolescent girls who menstruate.

6. Women's Health

- Myths, misconceptions and stigma surrounding COVID-19 discourage them from adopting healthy behaviours
- Caregiving responsibilities of women extend beyond their homes, with women making up 70 percent of the health workforce globally.

(In India, there are 1 million ASHAs (Accredited Social Health Activists) 0.9 million ANMs (Auxiliary Nurse Midwives) and 1.4 million nutrition workers called Anganwadi workers)

7. Girl Child Drop Out

- The digital gender divide has worsened inequity in access to education
- With online classes, and work from home becoming the norm, girls are at risk of getting left behind

8. Migration & Reverse Migration

- As a result of lockdown most of the infrastructure project and MSMEs in Urban location are closed down or have downsized their labour work force which has resulted into reverse migration (back to their native village). This has further added stress to the location livelihood opportunities and in few locations it has created tensions.
- These migrant labours have limited skills and acquiring new skills during lockdown situation it is a challenge. Lack of livelihood opportunity creates major threat to the family specially women – more work (at home), less intake of food and possibility of exploitation.

World Vision India Gender Equality Social inclusion Approach

To achieve Gender Equality

1. Ensure women's equal representation in all disaster planning and decision making
2. Drive transformative change for equality by addressing the care economy paid and unpaid work
3. Economic Empowerment skill building
4. Positive Child and adolescent development
5. Male Engagement
6. Strengthen system and structure
7. Inclusion of women in Cash and Voucher Programme Assistance (women manage it better)
- 8.

Lockdown Challenges faced by Police

*Mr SN Pradhan, Director General of Police, National Disaster Response
Force (NDRF).*

Human Rights is a governance issue. Every citizen has a right to protection against disasters – that's social policing.

Usually, policing is thought of in terms of prevention of crime and maintenance of law and order. But there is a growing realization that it is much more than that.

We are pushing the envelope. We have built public trust in the police force through our humanitarian response to COVID-19.

TRAFFIC REGULATORS BIGGEST TASK DURNING LOCKDOWN-
EPASS MANDATES
COMPLIANCE OF VEHICLE CHECKS
RESTRICTION OF MOVEMENT THROUGH RESTRICTIVE MOBLITY

EFFECTS OF LOCKDOWN ON SECTION OF LAW

- sections 269-271 of the IPC criminalize acts affecting public safety, specifically, acts likely to spread infections and disobedience with quarantining directions,
- sections 187 and 188 criminalize omission to assist, or disobedience with the orders of public servants.
- Section 269 punishes negligent acts likely to spread infections, section 270 punishes acts done malignantly that are likely to spread infections and section 271 punishes disobedience of quarantine rules.
- Both sections 269 and 271 prescribe a maximum punishment of six months while section 270 prescribes a maximum punishment of two years.
- Section 188 is the corresponding penal provision for violations of the EDA, Epidemic Diseases Regulations and the 144 orders; and, while the prescribed punishment does not exceed six months,
- . It must be highlighted that section 188 is procedurally bound by section 195(1) of the CrPC

MAKE OVERS

- Only four States have a CRIME rate higher than normalcy (Chhattisgarh, Mizoram, Kerala and Sikkim). The average rate of crime 9.3 in MP, Tamil Nadu 10.6; Maharashtra has a rate of 3.6.
- The offences of obscenity, simple hurt and criminal intimidation, violence against women and children, social abuse against government, cyber crimes and crime due to unemployment are seemingly unnecessary escalation
- The modernisation and digitization not stopped homeless crime predators, organized crime and greedy mindset of e commerce and vendors.
- Immigrant laborers and working population necessary mobility biggest challenges faced by the government and police

Lockdown challenges faced by Government

GOVERNMENT AUTHORITIES AND TASKS

- Shopkeepers and vendors operating during the restricted hours hassle to government authorities to seal the premises
- The construction workers and contractors without abiding continues the works creates as chaos in the administration of the local corporation authorities
- EB bills determining factor falls a mysterious scenario during the lockdown
- UNICEF estimates that as a result of school closures, 24m children have become dropout risks and many of the 370m children who rely on school meals could experience malnutrition.

- CONDUCTING NECESSARY SEARCHES authorities faced occupational hazard as well tolerance in conducting raids and warranted searches
- CONDUCTING INSPECTIONS
Food inspectors, drug inspectors , revenue inspectors has tough time in executing process in curtailing black marketing and duplication, adulteration of products

Solution Mechanism

- Global Initiative Against Transnational Organized Crime, a network of prominent law-enforcement, governance and development practitioners based in Geneva.
- Recommend training facilitates social support networks for police officers and focuses building strong connection with citizens avoiding fake or unwarranted publicize by social networks
- Government mechanism 3 Accelerators: Economic stability, Education portals and enforcement of unique health initiatives throughout nation

HUMAN SKILLS TO BE DEVELOPED

- Broadly speaking, ‘Response and Recovery’ activities involve basics human skills for survival. For me, ‘Five skills’ as I experienced at Car Nicobar are:
 - ❖ FIRE (generation of fire and its correct use)
 - ❖ SHELTER (knowledge to find place and construct and move to other settlement)
 - ❖ SIGNALLING (for various communication)
 - ❖ FOOD & WATER (availability, identification, cooking, potable water)
 - ❖ FIRST AID (basic easing out of pains and difficulties from injury).

(We will not dwell on these skills now, but have seen how they get pronounced during post-disaster management).

COASTAL HAZARDS. VULNERABILITY AND COMMUNITY RESILIENCE

Dr.G.Bhaskaran, M.Sc.M.Phil. M.Ed., Ph.D.,

Professor and Head

Centre for Water Resources Management (CWRM)

University of Madras, Chennai-25

grbhaskaran@gmail.com

Importance of the Coastal Zone

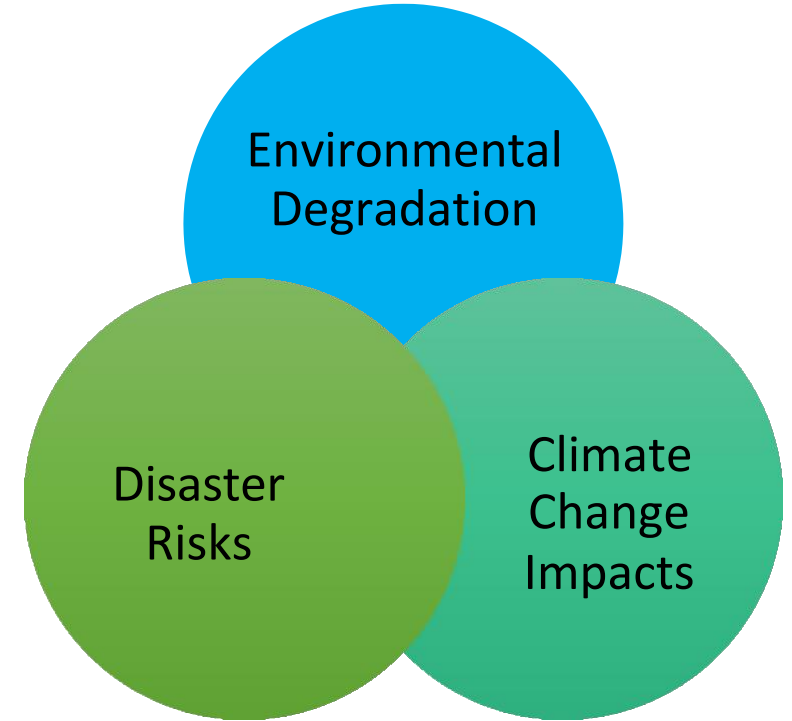

The coastal zone has several important values namely:

1. High level of biodiversity and biological activity
2. High scenic value, for tourism and recreation
3. Rich in biological and natural resources (coral reefs, sea-grass beds)
4. Cheap source of protein (fish, seafood, etc.)
5. Source of livelihoods and important backbone of local economy
6. Transportation, navigation
7. Settlements and housing
8. Rich in Natural resources

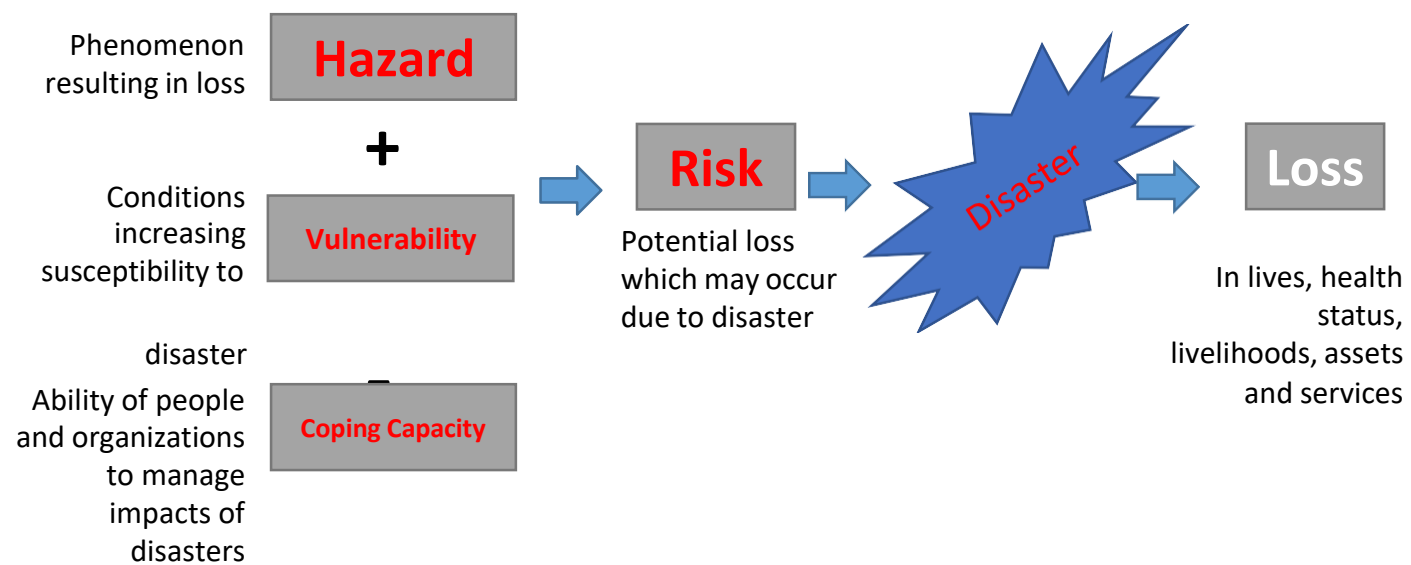

Issues and Challenges Along the Coasts

1. Extensive over-development of coastal and marine economy
2. High population density
3. Land-based and sea-based marine pollution
4. Threats to biological diversity (conversion of natural habitat to human uses)
5. The critical depletion of coastal resources and environment
6. Increasing conflicts on coastal development
7. Disaster risks from coastal hazards
8. Impacts of climate change ex. Sea Level Rise

Hazards vs Disasters

Understanding the occurrence of a Disaster:

COASTAL HAZARDS

Coastal hazards are natural and human-made hazards that occur at the interface between the ocean and the shoreline. Coastal hazards are categorized as rapid-onset (fast moving) or slow-onset hazard.

Rapid-Onset Hazards

Storms

Flooding

Storm Surge

Tsunamis

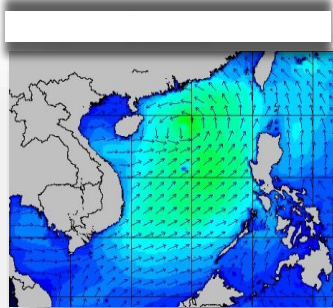

Slow-Onset Hazards

Shoreline Erosion

Sea Level Rise

Saltwater Intrusion

Land Subsidence

Coastal hazards are physical phenomena that expose a coastal area to risk of property damage, loss of life and environmental degradation.

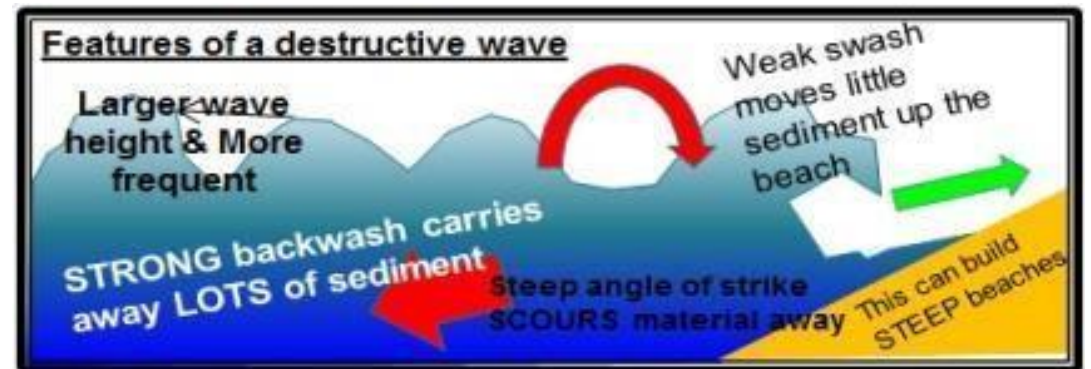

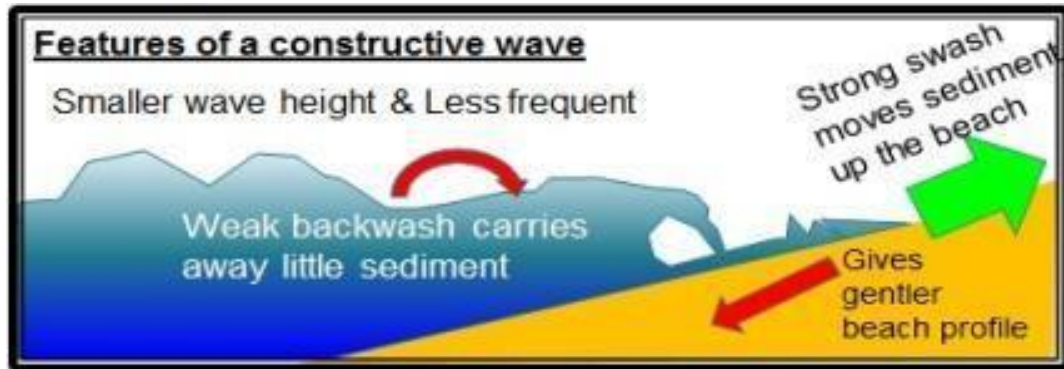

NATURAL HAZARDS

- Waves
- Coastal Erosion
- Shoreline Changes
- Sea Level Rise
- Cyclonic Storms
- Coastal Flooding
- Tsunami

MANMADE HAZARDS

COASTAL EROSION – NATURAL HAZARD

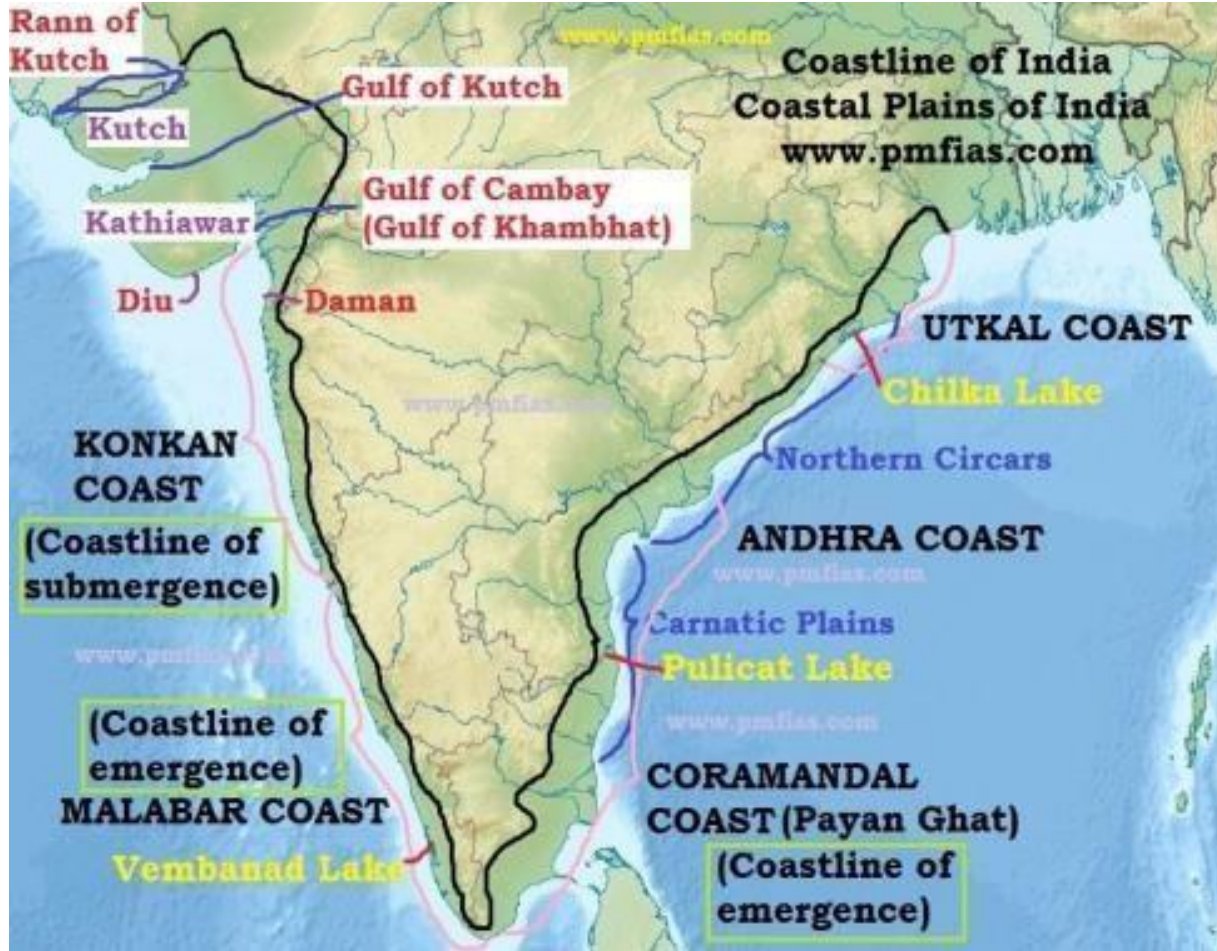

COASTAL EROSION

Erosion entails removal of sediments by waves, tides and currents. It is a major problem around the world. Globally, about 70% of the sandy beaches are experiencing acute erosion (Bird 2000). The reasons for this include increased storminess, coastal submergence, decreased sediment movement, changes in the directional component of wave climate and human activities (Bryant, 2005). Besides, sea level rise also accentuates the problem of coastal erosion. Leatherman et al. (2000) found out that long term retreat of sandy shores averages about 150 times that of sea level rise.

SHORE LINE & TIDE LINES

- India has a total coastline of 7516.6 km, out of which mainland coastline consists of 6100 km and islands' coastline consists of 1197 km.
- Indian coastline touches nine states and four union territories. The nine states are Gujarat, Maharashtra, Goa, Karnataka, Kerala, Tamil Nadu, Andhra Pradesh, Odisha and West Bengal. Union Territories include Daman & Diu, Puducherry, Andaman & Nicobar Islands and Lakshadweep Islands.
- Gujarat has the longest sea coastline in India of 1,600 km.

Sea Level Rise & Population Impact

Today's Population Living Below Projected High-Tide Line

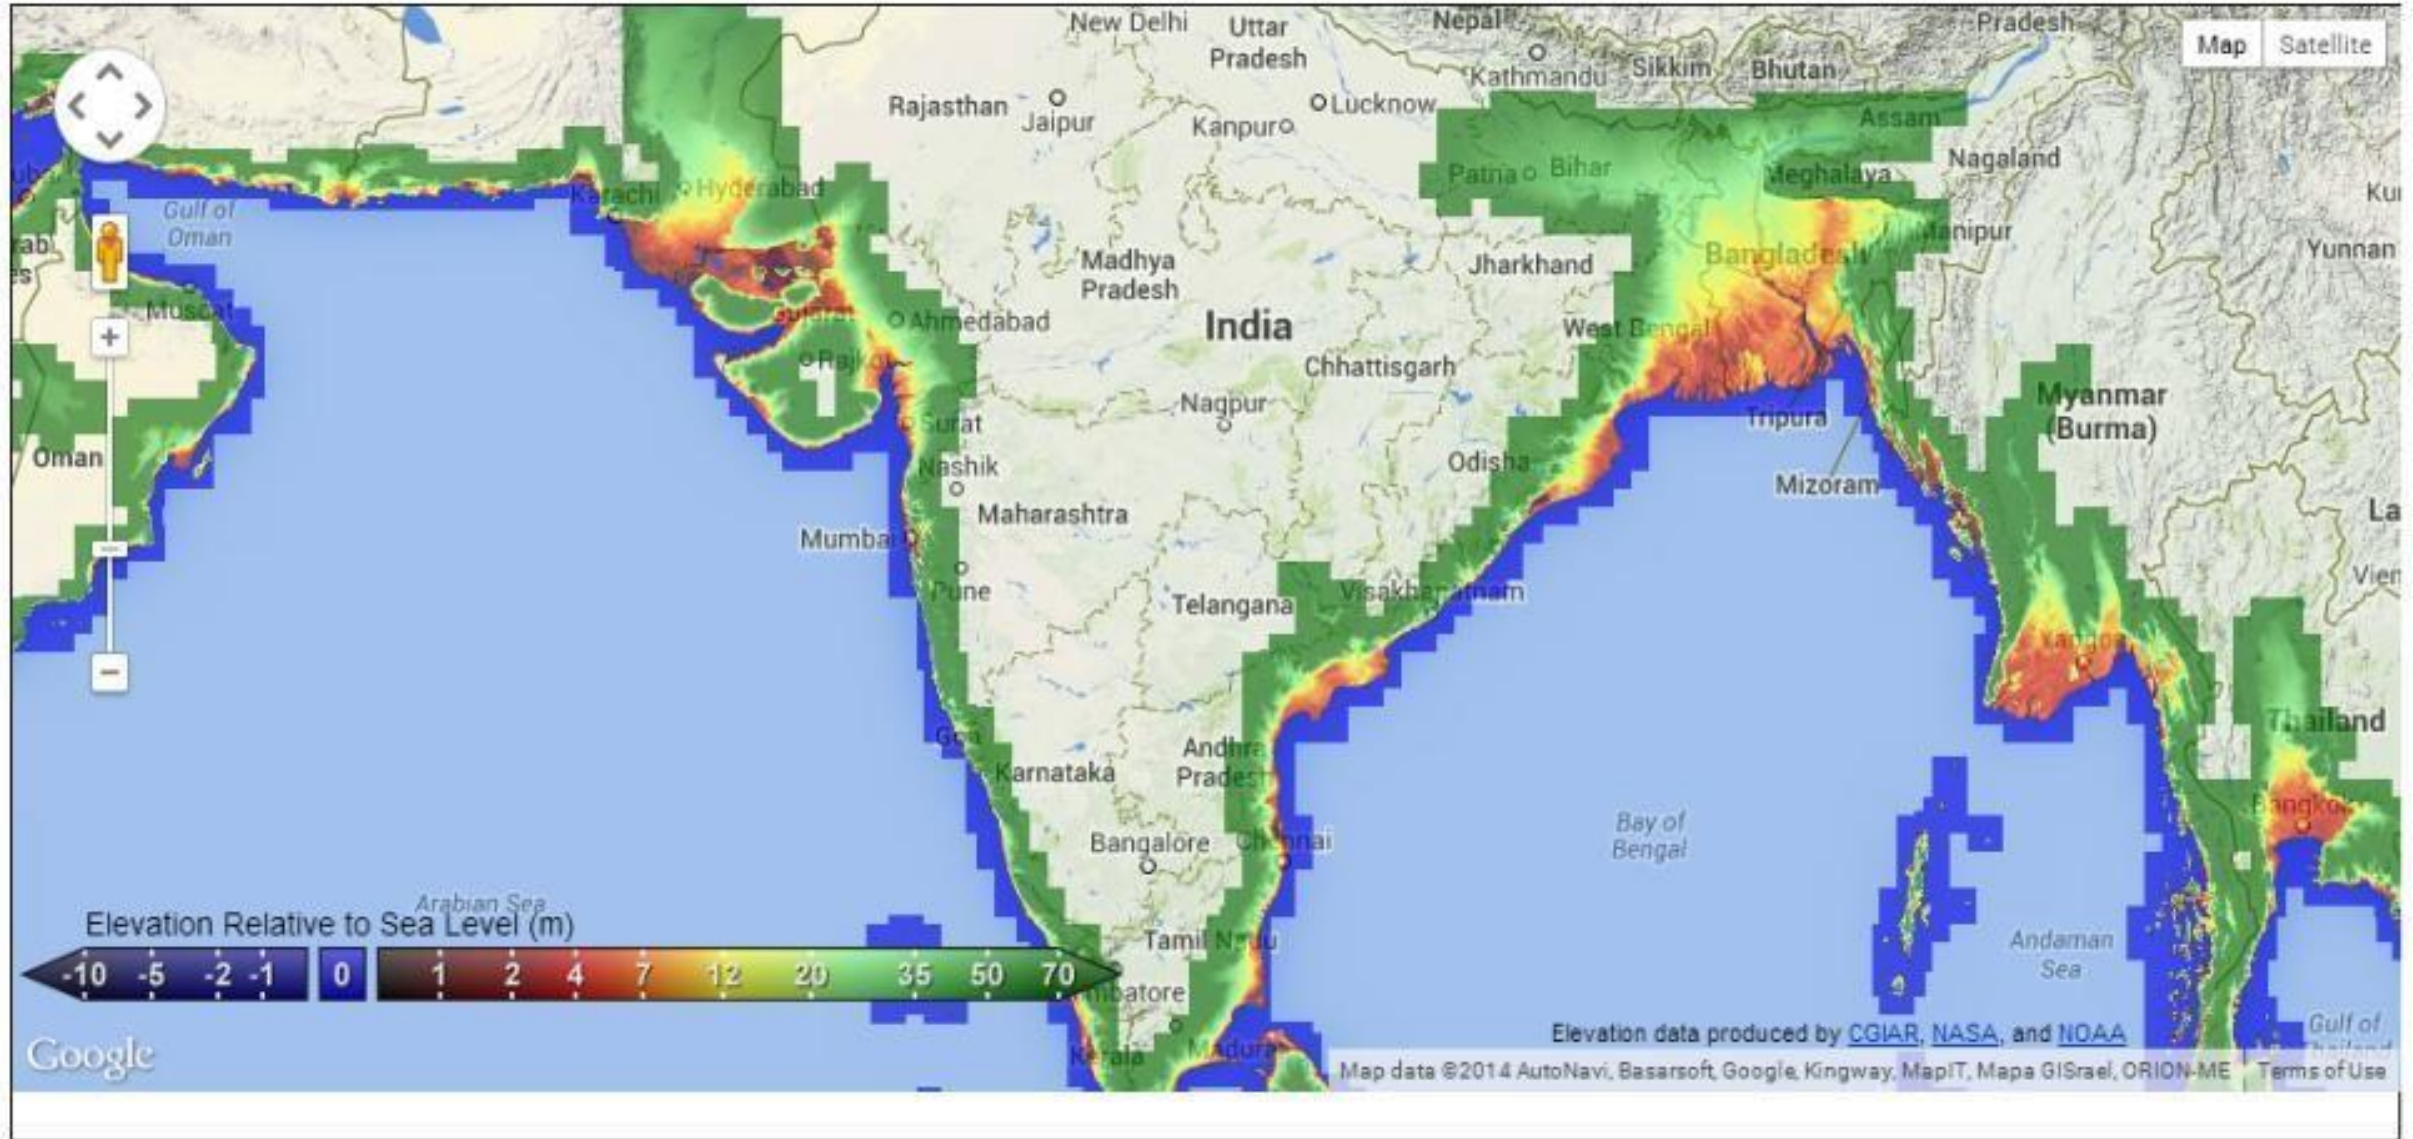

SEA LEVEL RISE (SLR)

Sea level rise (SLR) is one of the oft-cited effects of global warming (rise in global temperature due to enhanced emission of greenhouse gases). It is a particularly ominous threat because about 10% lives within an elevation of 10 m above mean sea level (McGranahan et al., 2007). SLR will affect all components of the coasts like beaches, lagoons, estuaries, deltas, coral reefs, mangroves etc (see Nicholls et al., 2007 for a detailed discussion of these effects).

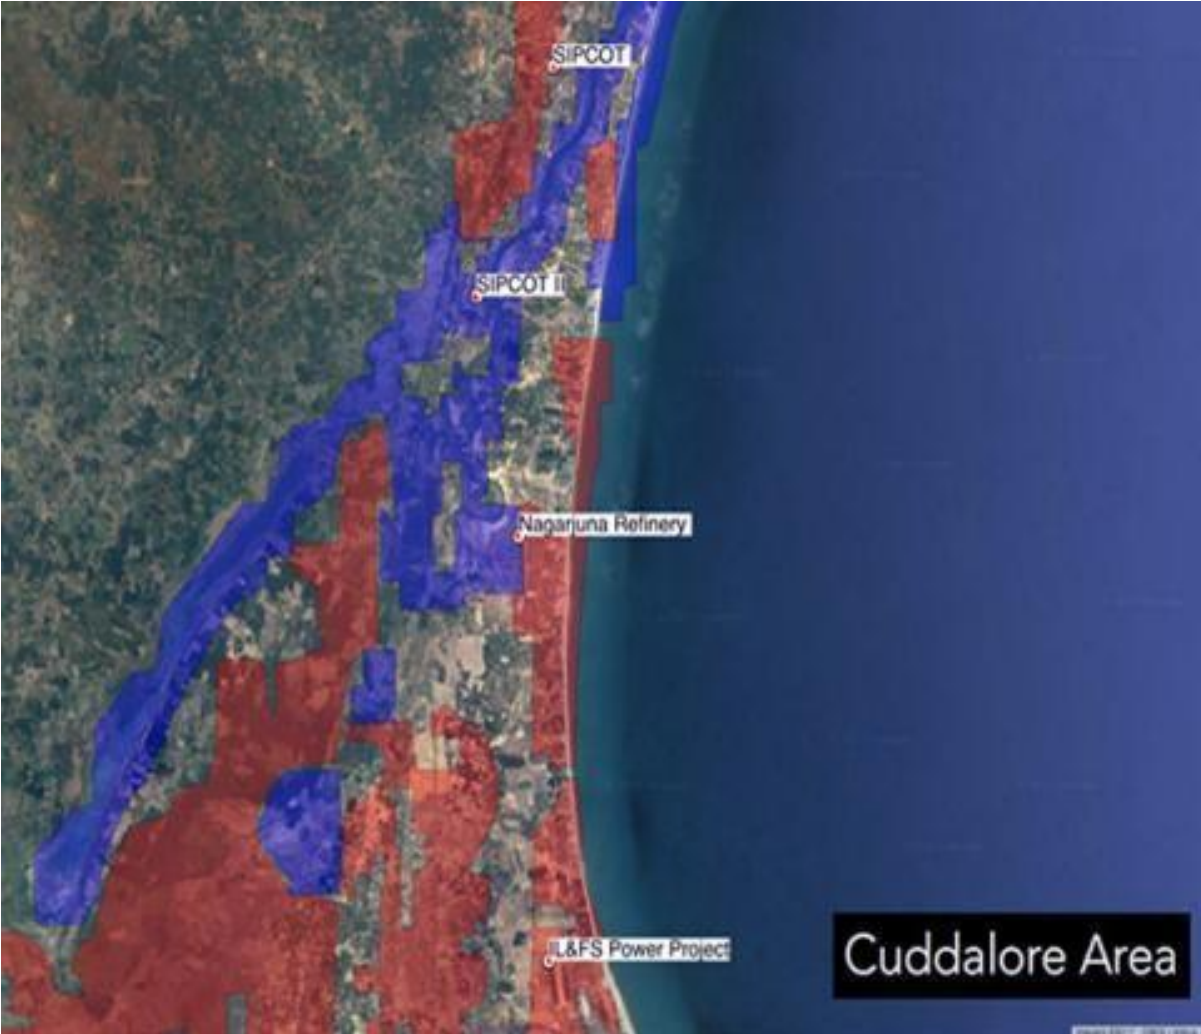

According to Miller and Douglas (2004), tidal gauge data indicate that the global sea level has risen, on average, by 1.5-2.0 mm/year in the last century and since 1993, the rate has increased to 3 mm/year (Church and White, 2006). The latest IPCC Report, however, predicts that the global sea level will rise by about 600 mm by 2100 AD. This means the annual rate of increase would be 6.45 mm.

STORMS AND ASSOCIATED STORM SURGES

Storms are one of the most potent forms of natural hazards in the world. Storm damage in the coasts results from the interactions of winds, waves and rising water levels. Besides, the impact of the storms depends on the intensity of the driving events as well as the natural and human-induced changes to the coastal system. In addition to being impacted directly by the storm, coastal areas are also affected by the storm surges i.e. a rise in the water level following a storm. Several factors determine the intensity of the storm surge. These include the effects of sea surface temperature, pressure, winds, waves, the earth's rotation and the amount of rainfall received (Harris, 1963; Betts et al., 2004). In addition, the depth and morphology of the ocean as well as nearshore bathymetry can also influence storm surge height. The largest known storm surge height is 13 m caused by tropical cyclone Mahina in north Queensland in 1899 (Nott and Hayne, 2000).

CYCLONIC STORMS – NATURAL HAZARDS

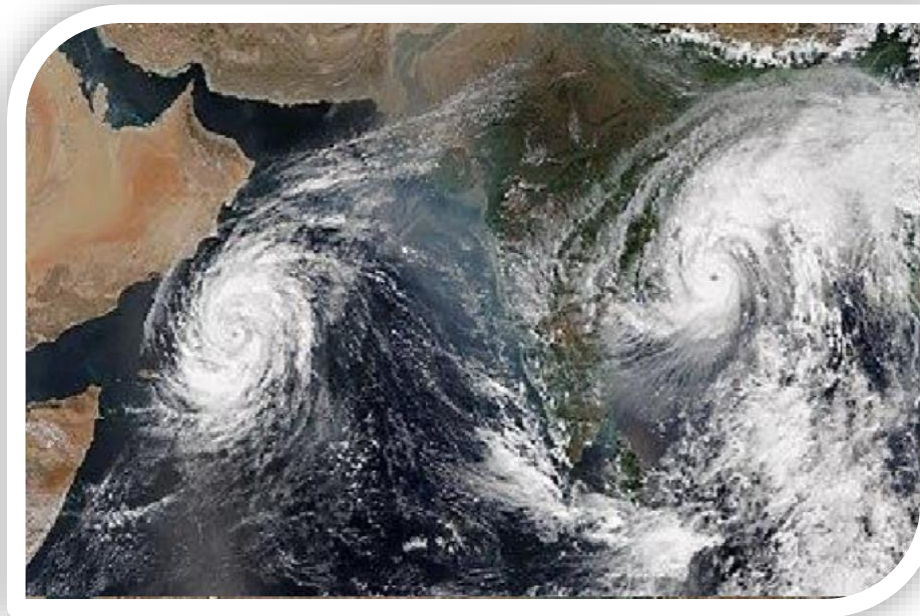

CYCLONIC STORMS – NATURAL HAZARD

COASTAL FLOODING – NATURAL HAZARD

Flooding can occur due to a variety of reasons. Kaiser (2006) distinguished between permanent flooding and episodic flooding. Permanent flooding results in permanent degradation of land from coastal wetlands and deltas. The rate of loss depends on slope, sediment availability and the resilience of the ecosystem to cope with adverse events (Kaiser, 2006). Episodic flooding, on the other hand, is usually the result of surges in ocean water caused by cyclones and tsunamis. The flooding caused in Southeast Asia in 2004 and in New Orleans in 2005 are examples of episodic flooding caused by surges due to Hurricane Katrina and the tsunami respectively. Kaiser (2006) suggests that episodic flooding causes more damage than permanent inundation. The ability of the increased water level (flooding) to cause damage depends on the susceptibility of the site to being flooded and its associated effects. Low elevation, reduced dune height, beach recession and improper developmental activities may all enhance the susceptibility of coastal flooding (Burston, 2007).

COASTAL FLOODINGS – NATURAL HAZARD

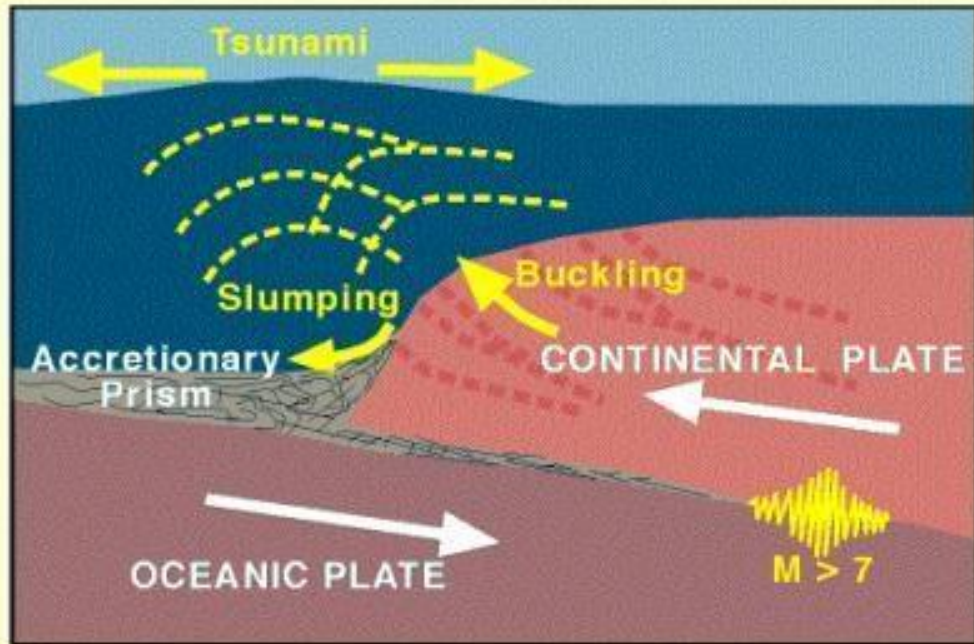

TSUNAMIS

Because of the low frequency at which they occur, tsunamis have been termed as “the under-rated hazard” (Bryant, 2008). However, the last decade has seen two major tsunamis (Southeast Asia in 2004 and Japan in 2011) which had devastating consequences both in terms of loss of lives and economic damage. In addition, smaller tsunamis took place in Samoa and Chile in 2009 and 2010 respectively that killed a number of people. This series of events have highlighted the impact that these events can have. Tsunamis are sea waves generated as a result of earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, terrestrial or submarine landslides and even asteroid impacts. Earthquakes are by far the largest producers of tsunamis, but only those earthquakes can cause tsunamis, which occur within the upper 100 km of the oceanic crust (Bryant, 2008). The velocity at which these waves travel can be variable. Although they cannot be seen in the open ocean, the height of tsunamis reaching the coast can range from 2 m to 40 m (Bryant, 2008). Nearshore topography may further amplify the height of the waves. The height of tsunami waves during the 2004 tsunami was about 50 m in Indonesia, 20 m in Thailand, 10-15 m in India and 11 m in Sri Lanka (Choi et al., 2006; Tsuji et al., 2006). These waves can also inundate areas not only near the coast but also those inland. In Indonesia, the run-up of the 2004 tsunami travelled inland for 5000 km (Choi et al., 2006).

MARINE POLLUTION AND OIL SPILL – MAN MADE HAZARD

Pollution, trawling, and human development are major human disasters that affect coastal regions. There are two main categories related to pollution, point source pollution, and nonpoint source pollution. Point source pollution is when there is an exact location such as a pipeline or a body of water that leads into the rivers and oceans. Known dumping into the ocean is also another point source of pollution. Nonpoint source pollution would pertain more to fertilizer runoff, and industrial waste. Examples of pollution that affect the coastal regions are but are not limited to; fertilizer runoff, oil spills, and dumping of hazardous materials into the oceans. More human acts that hurt the coastline are as follows; waste discharge, fishing, dredging, mining, and drilling. Oil spills are one of the most hazardous dangers towards coastal communities. They are hard to contain, difficult to clean up, and devastate everything. The fish, animals such as birds, the water, and especially the coastline near the spill.

Coastal Zone Management Act

In 1972 the Coastal Zone Management Act or CZMA works to streamline the policies which states create to a minimum federal standard for environmental protection. CZMA establishes the national policy for the development and implementation of regulatory programs for coastal land usage, which is supposed to be reflected in state legislation such as CAMA. CZMA also provides minimum building requirements to make the insurance provided through the NFIP less expensive for the government to operate by mitigating losses.

- Category I covers areas that are ecologically sensitive and important, such as national parks marine parks, sanctuaries, reserve forests, wildlife habitats, mangroves, corals/coral reefs, etc. No new construction is permitted within 500 metres of the HTL in this area.
- Category II deals with areas that have already been developed upto or close to the shore-line. No building is permitted on the seaward side of the existing road.
- Areas that are relatively undisturbed and those that do not belong to either Category-I or II are classified as Category III.
- The areas upto 200 metres from the High Tide Line are earmarked as 'No Development Zone'. No construction is permitted within this zone except for repairs of existing authorised structures. Densely populated rural areas to be afforded greater opportunity for development. Accordingly, for CRZ-III (Rural) areas, two separate categories have been stipulated as:
 - CRZ-III A – These are densely populated rural areas with a population density of 2161 per square kilometre as per 2011 Census. Such areas shall have a No Development Zone (NDZ) of 50 meters from the HTL as against 200 meters from the High Tide Line stipulated in the CRZ Notification, 2011; and
 - CRZ-III B – Rural areas with population density of below 2161 per square kilometre as per 2011 Census. Such areas shall continue to have an NDZ of 200 meters from the HTL;

Coastal stretches in the Andaman & Nicobar, Lakshadweep and small islands except those designated as CRZ-I, CRZ-II or CRZ-III are designated as Category IV.

A No Development Zone (NDZ) of 20 meters has been stipulated for all Islands, for islands close to the main land coast and for all Backwater Islands in the mainland. For permitting constructions of buildings, the distance from the High Tide Line shall be decided depending on the size of the islands. This will be laid down for each island in consultation with the experts and with the approval of the Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change, Govt. of India, keeping in view the land use requirements for specific purposes vis-à-vis the local conditions, including hydrological aspects, erosion and ecological sensitivity

COASTAL HAZARDS IN INDIA – OVER VIEW

India is the third worst-affected country due to climate- induced natural disasters. The country's coastal regions, in particular, are highly vulnerable because of rapid urbanization, high population densities and related economic activities such as agriculture, aquaculture, tourism, industries and trade. The 7,517-km-long coastline is home to 260 million people or one- third of India's population, who live in low-lying areas within 50 km of the sea coast and are perennially exposed to climate variabilities and extreme weather events.

The 130 towns and 77 cities within India's 84 coastal districts are of enormous socio- economic importance. Majority of the largest and most dense coastal urban agglomerations such as Mumbai, Kolkata, Chennai, and Vishakhapatnam are hubs of critical infrastructure and assets that contribute to the nation's economy and growth.

Warming oceans leading to sea-level rise provide a source of thermal expansion of sea water, contributing to more intense and frequent storm surges and cyclones in the coastal regions. Between 1877-2005, a total of 283 cyclones made landfall in India's coastal regions; 106 of them were severe cyclones that occurred in a 50-km-wide strip on the east coast, and 35 were less severe ones on the west coast. In 19 severe cyclonic storms, the combined mortality rate exceeded 10,000. In 1999 a super cyclone wreaked havoc in coastal Odisha, claiming more than 30,000 lives. India today is projected to be at 'very high' risk levels in terms of intensity of cyclones

In the case of recent cyclone Fani, the first preliminary assessment report of the Odisha government suggests damages to 500,000 houses and 6,700 hospital buildings and 1.88 lakh hectares of agricultural land, while 3.4 million livestock perished.

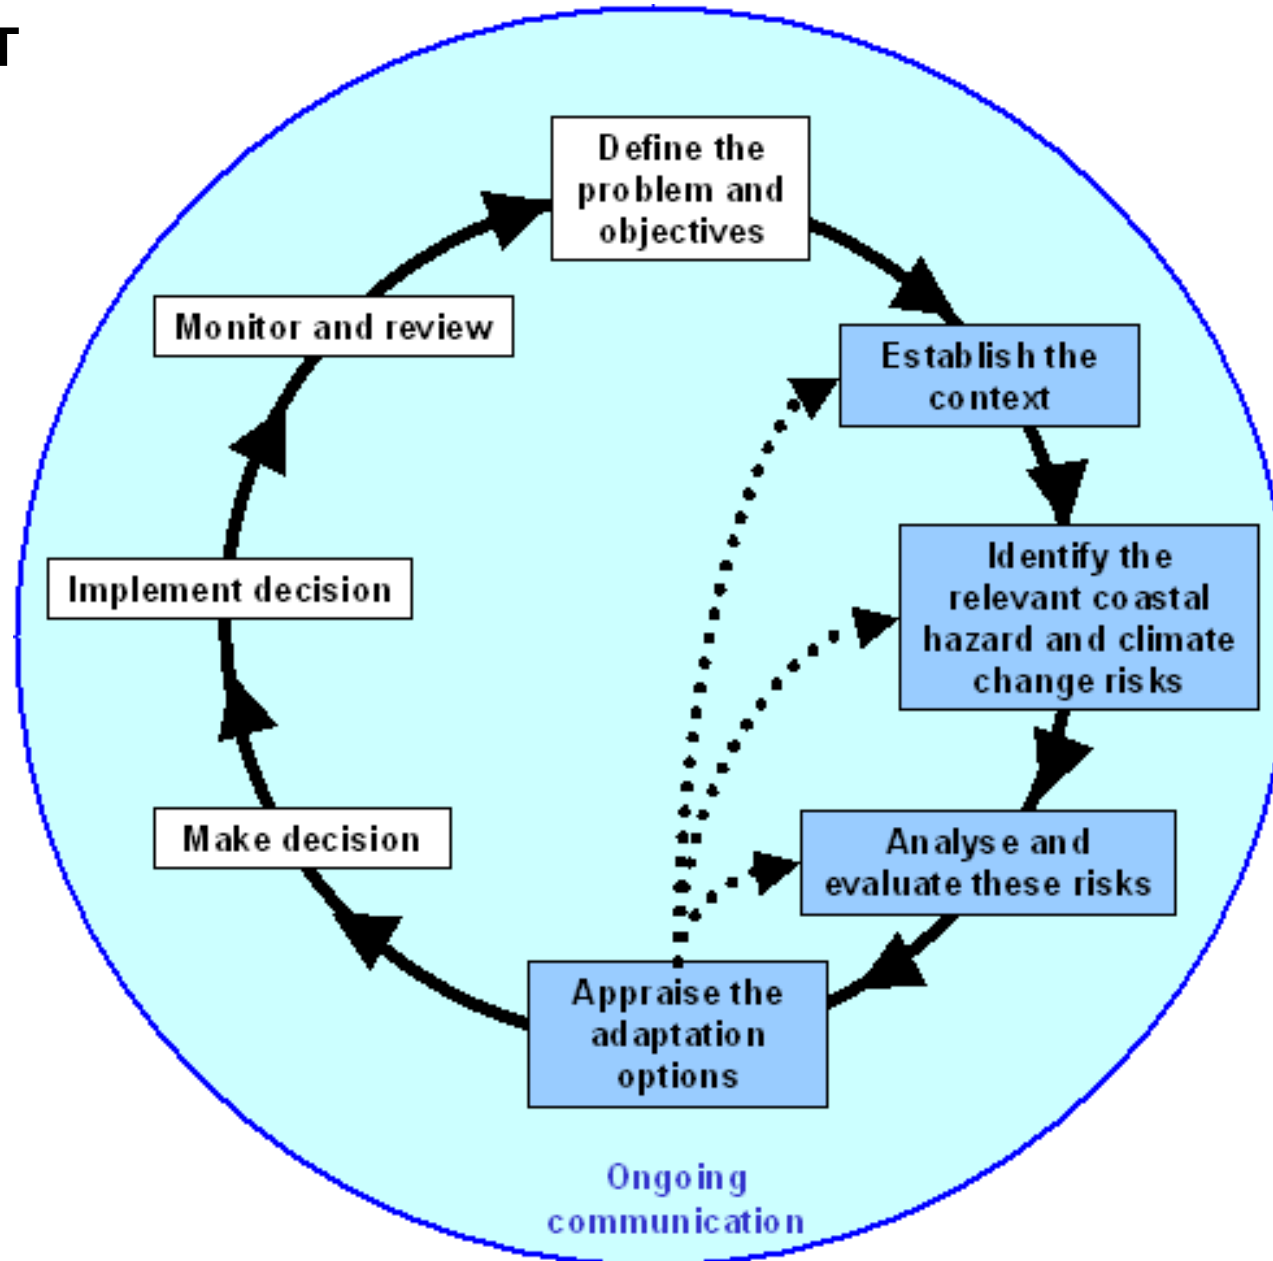

The damage to infrastructure has severely affected nearly 1.51 crore people spread over 16,659 villages in Odisha. Reports suggest that it will take the Odisha government five to 10 years to rebuild the state from the loss and damage caused by cyclone Fani alone. Similarly, the 2018 floods in Kerala destroyed 280,000 houses and 140,000 hectares of standing crops, and damaged about 70,000 km of road network

HAZARD RISK VULNERABILITY AND CAPACITY (HVRC) ASSESSMENT - TECHNICAL INPUTS

- Community based risk maps can be upgraded with GIS mapping, Multi hazard analysis
 - Incorporated land use plans
 - Risk indexes defined for ward levels

ADAPTIVE MANAGEMENT

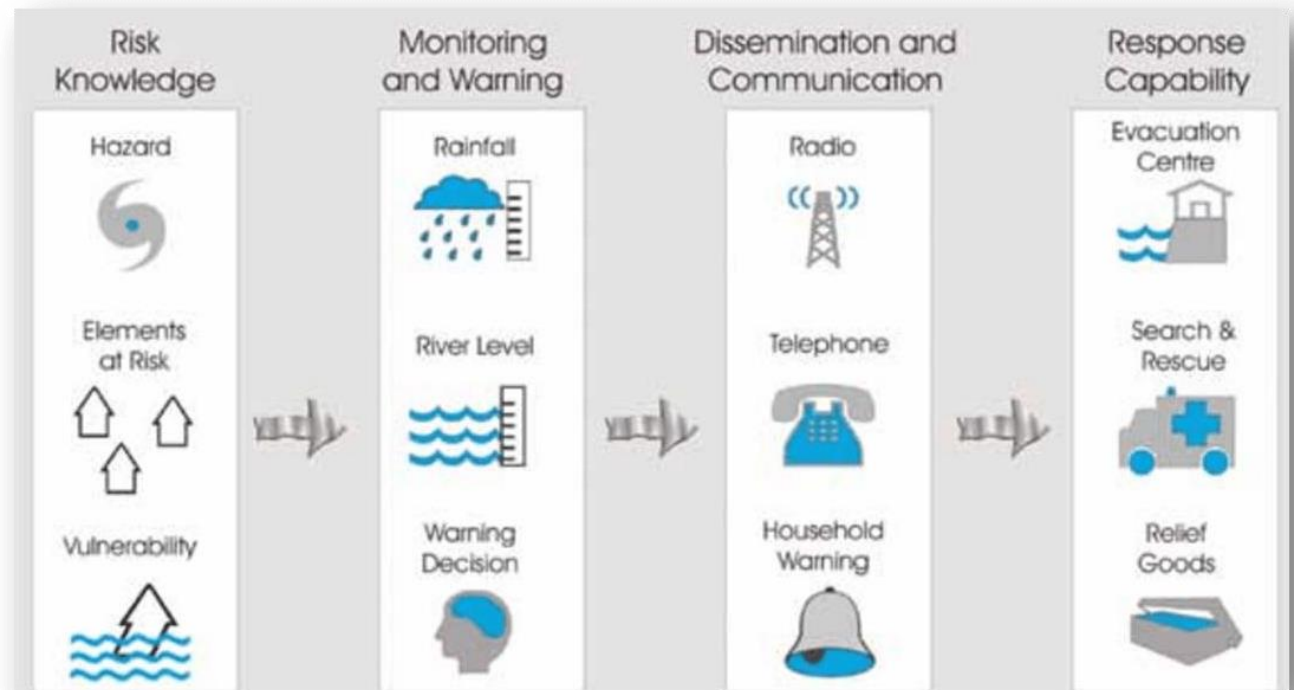

LOCAL/COMMUNITY LEVEL STRATEGIES

1. Objective setting - The setting of objectives and policies to manage safer development must be available to local governments. It can be termed as community level DRR/CCA plan. Typical objectives include
 - accommodating future safer development by identifying land suitable for such purposes,
 - protecting residents by avoiding climate change impacts and/or managing multihazard risk on land/built up area subject to the influence of coastal hazards,
 - protecting environmentally sensitive areas.
2. Coastal hazard mapping - Coastal hazard mapping must identify coastal flood and erosion hazard(s) and to provide the technical basis for land use planning and development.
3. Risk management –
 - ❑ Identification, assessment, measurement, and prioritization of DRR and CCA measures
 - ❑ Responding to climate risk by selecting the most appropriate adaption tools
4. Emergency planning and preparedness – Advance and post disaster planning

DRR - NON STRUCTURAL MEASURES

Measures to reduce the physical exposure of coastal areas to impacts of hazards:

- Early Warning Systems
- Training and capacity building
- Regulations such as Coastal Setbacks
- Public Awareness
- Others

Role of Police in Preventing the spread of COVID 19.
Findings from Kerala

Background of Pandemic in Kerala

- The first case of COVID 19 in India and Kerala occurred on 30th January 2020. Two more cases were reported in February
- From 7th March 2020, there were renewed reporting of cases among people coming from abroad.
- The spread of the disease posed a serious challenge to the State administration (Till April 10th 2020).
 - People coming into the state- 67.6%
 - Contact
 - Primary contacts – 25.5%- In-family (71.6%) and out of family (28.3%).
 - Secondary contact-4.8% In-family (95.8%) and out of family (4.1%)
 - Untraced – 2%
- There were two components to the response of the Administration
 - Medical treatment
 - Non-Medical response in society.
- The Police has a role in the Non-Medical Response.

Non-Medical Response and the Role of the Police

- Non-Medical Response
 - Quarantine (Home and Institutional)
 - Social Distancing
 - Lockdown.
- The police had a significant role in the above response, with other departments.
- How did the police adapt to a patently non-police task
- Whether the police work had an impact on the spread of the disease.

Laws to control Pandemic

- Explanation of legal framework and the interplay of different laws.
- Historic background
 - The Epidemic Disease Act 1897 – Enacted during the colonial period to respond to the Bubonic plague that had spread in Bombay in 1896. (Partho, Tripathy, and Kashyap, 2013).
 - Provisions include provisions to inspect persons, segregate infected persons, inspect ships and vessels leaving or arriving in ports.
- The laws used in the combat against COVID.
 - Disaster Management Act of 2005
 - Kerala Epidemic Disease Act (KEDA)
 - Indian Penal Code (IPC)
 - Kerala Police Act (KPA)

Laws to control Pandemic

- The response to the present pandemic.
 - Enactment of the Kerala Epidemic Disease Ordinance (KEDO) on 27th March, 2020. (Later legislated as an Act).
 - The Act gave powers to notify any disease as an epidemic.
 - To take special measures and to prohibit any act which the Government considers is sufficient to transmit the disease ((Section 4.2(a) of KEDA)).
 - Inspect persons coming by Air, Road, Rail, and Sea ((Section 4.2(b) of KEDA))
 - To seal state borders ((Section 4.2(c) of KEDA))
 - Impose restrictions on operation of public and private transport ((Section 4.2(d) of KEDA))
 - Restrict or prohibit congregation in public places and religious congregation ((Section 4.2(e) of KEDA))
 - To regulate or restrict Government and Private offices, and education institutions ((Section 4.2(g) of KEDA))
 - Prohibit or restrict the functioning of shops and commercial establishments ((Section 4.2(a) of KEDA))
 - The Indian Penal Code- Section 269 incriminates negligent act that is likely to spread infection of a dangerous disease.
 - The Kerala Police Act Section 118(e) incriminates acts that causes danger to the public or endangers public safety.
 - The Disaster Management Act, 2005 provided the Government powers to respond the pandemic.

The State Response

- The important roles of the Central Government, State Government, and the Local governments.
- The Central Government:
 - Providing broad guidelines for Containment of COVID-19 in the Country (Exercising powers vested in the National Disaster Management Authority (NDMA) under Section 6(2)(i) of the Disaster Management Act of 2005.
 - The Nationwide lockdown.
 - Leadership for providing vaccination.
- The State Government.
 - Coordination of all response mechanism at the state level.
 - The Chief Minister headed a high power committee.
- The District Administration
 - Health department- Managing hospitals and increasing capacity.
 - Police Department- Enforcing provisions of KEDA, Social distancing, quarantine, and lockdown.
- The Local Self Government
 - Running community kitchens, visiting older persons, and those in quarantine. Coordinating community health workers and house visits.

The State's Response.

- The Tripod: The Political leadership, the Civil administration, The Police.
- Medical Response , Non Medical Response, and Community welfare.
- The main departments in the response to the pandemic are the Health, Local Self Government, and the Police Department. Other departments played a supportive role.
- Planning for
 - Addressing the control of disease from people coming into the state.
 - Enforcing the lockdown and other measures for preventing the spread of the disease.
 - Increasing state health capacity.
 - The large scale unemployment due to lockdown, especially for the poorest
 - Ensuring maintenance of essential services.
 - Reviving the Economy.

The Police Work

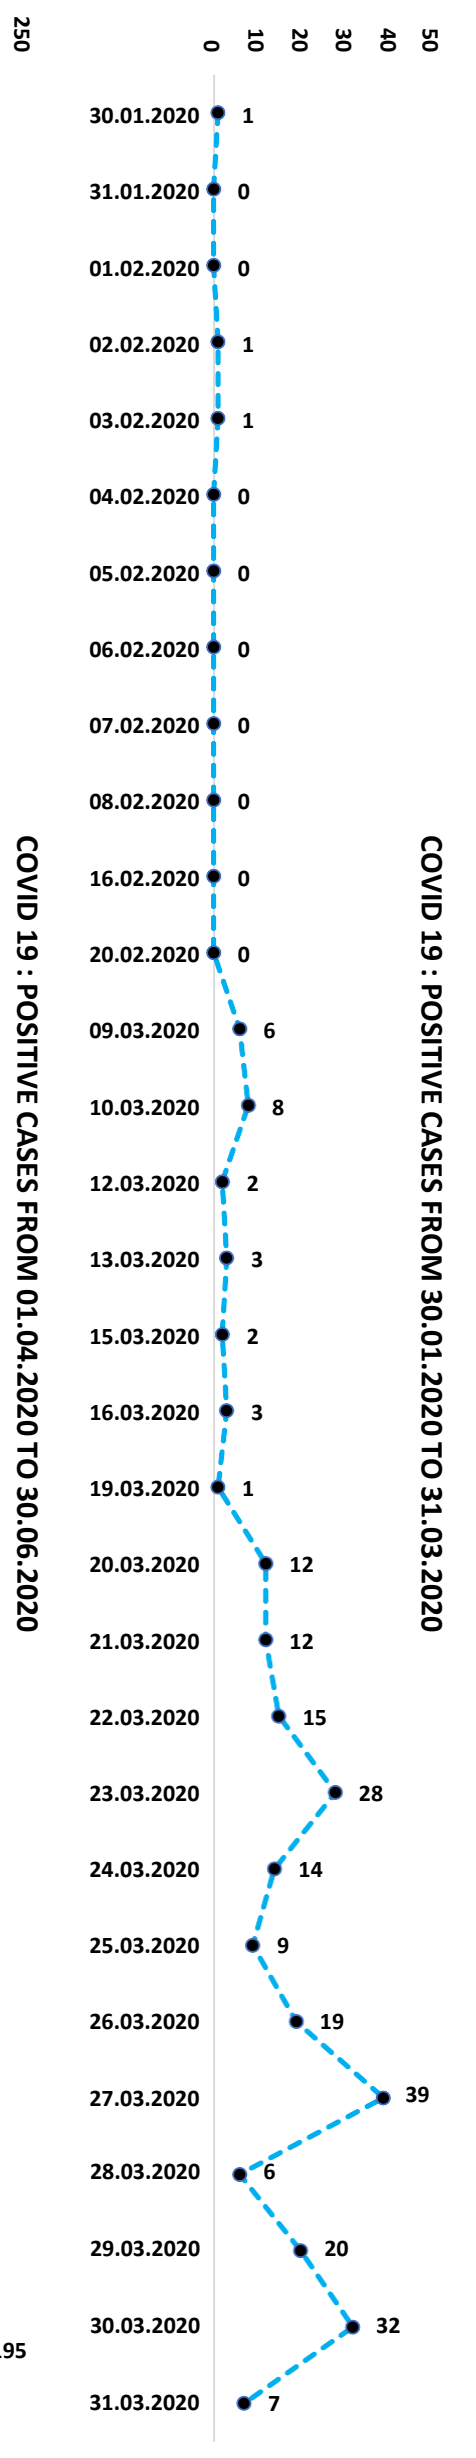

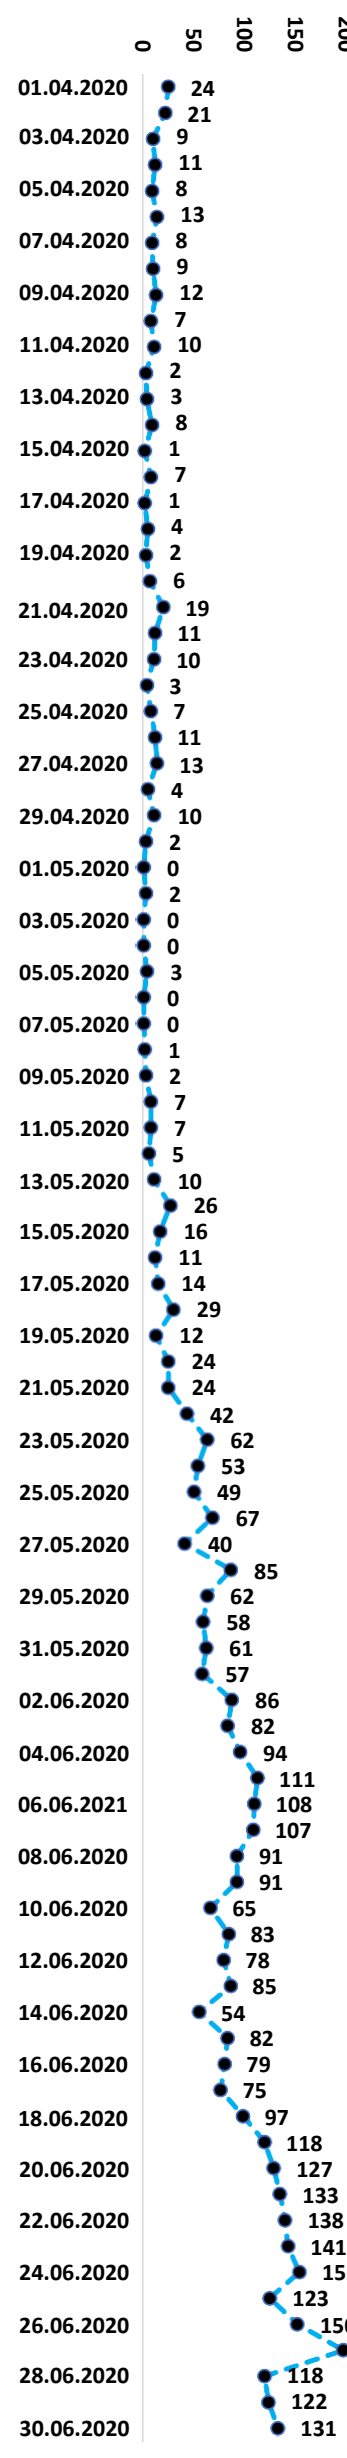

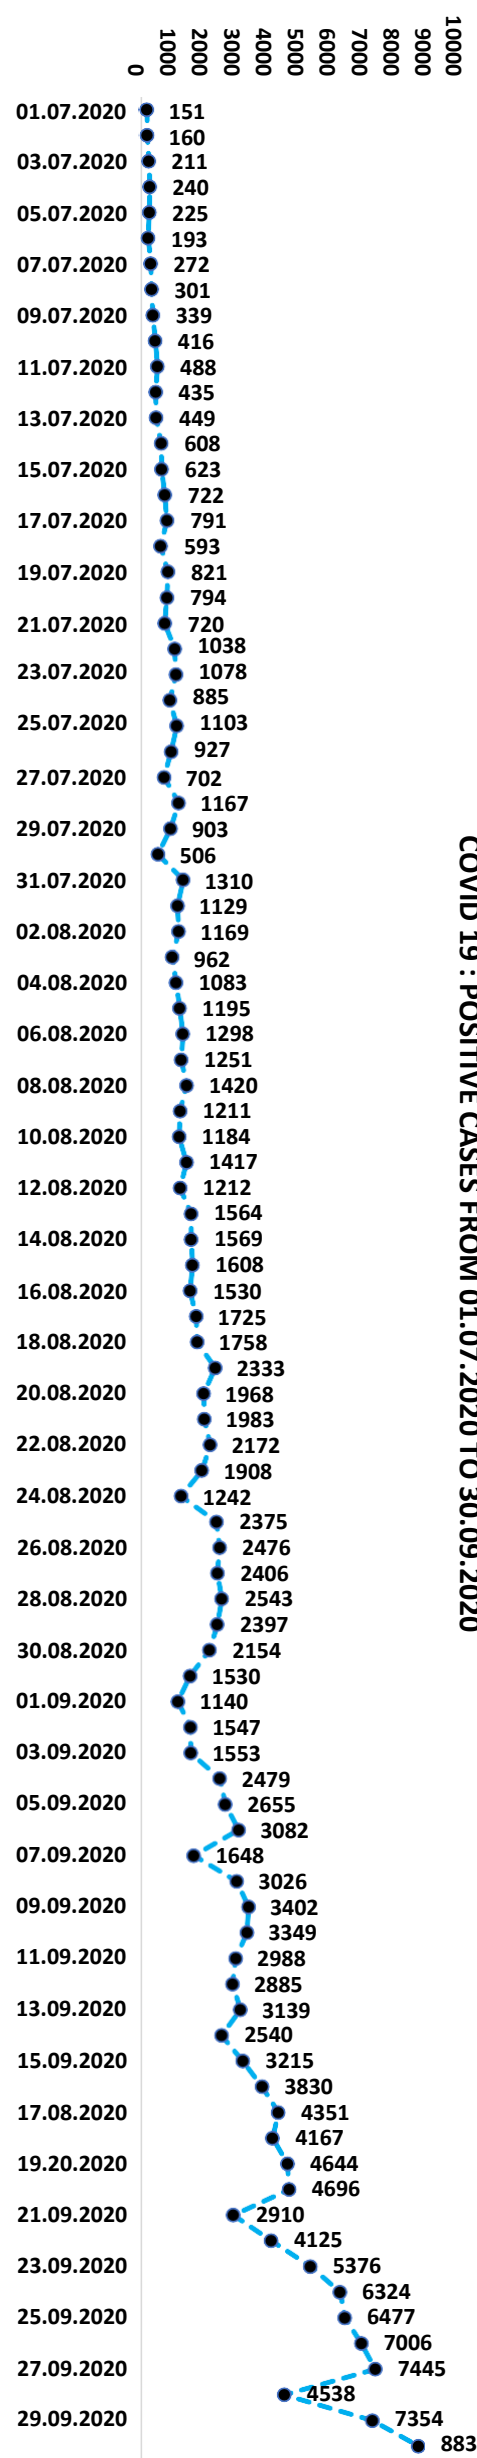

- The Police Role:
 - Control the spread of the disease
 - Assist the vulnerable.
- The rationale for the role for police
 - The laws empowers the police
 - The health workers have difficulties in mobility
 - They are localised in the hospitals and clinics.
 - They are overworked during the pandemic
 - On the other hand the police had a state wide and community level presence.
 - The training to manage dangerous environment, compared to other staff.
 - Police Community relations.
- Police Action:
 - Enforcing lockdown.
 - Social distancing and provisions of the KEDA
 - Ensuring Quarantine
 - Presence in Airports, Road checkpoints, and Border patrolling.
 - Community outreach.

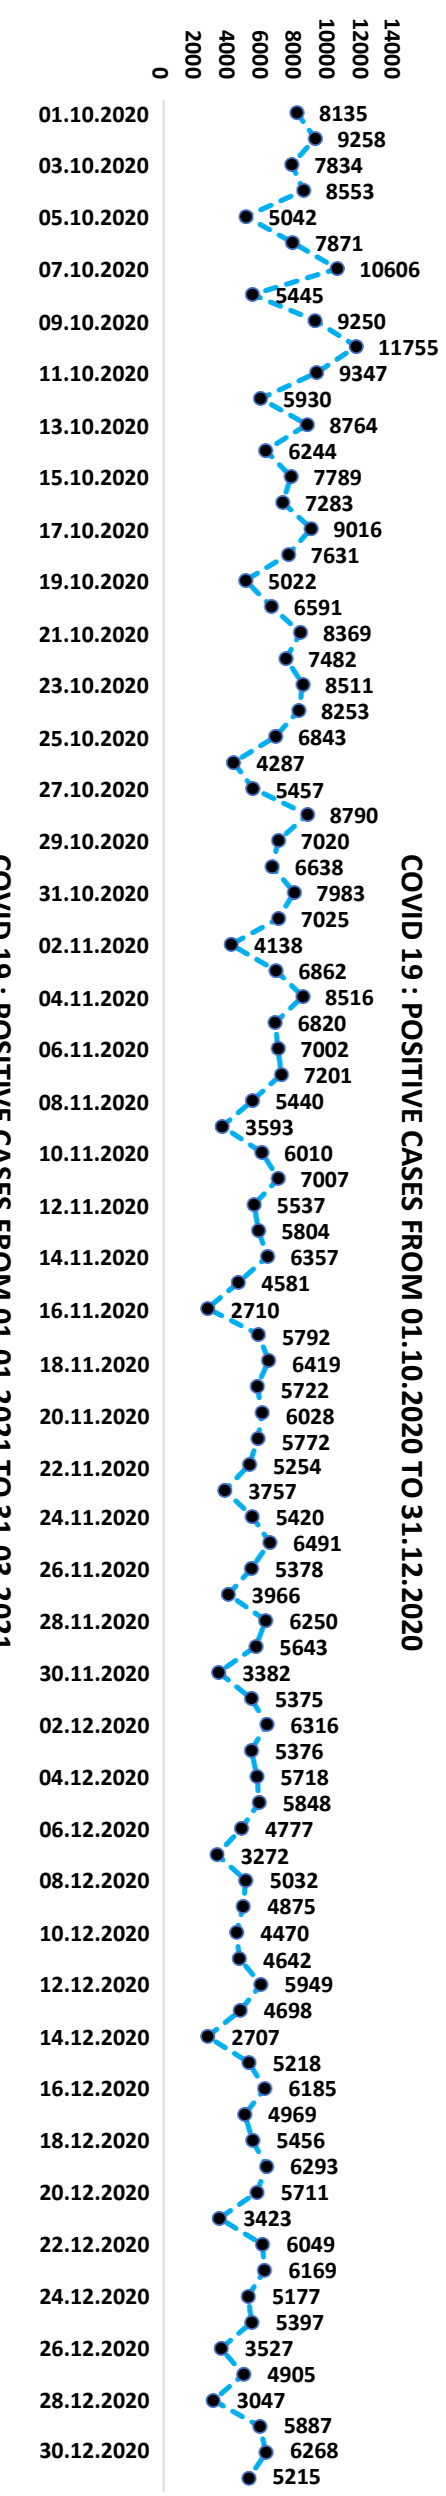

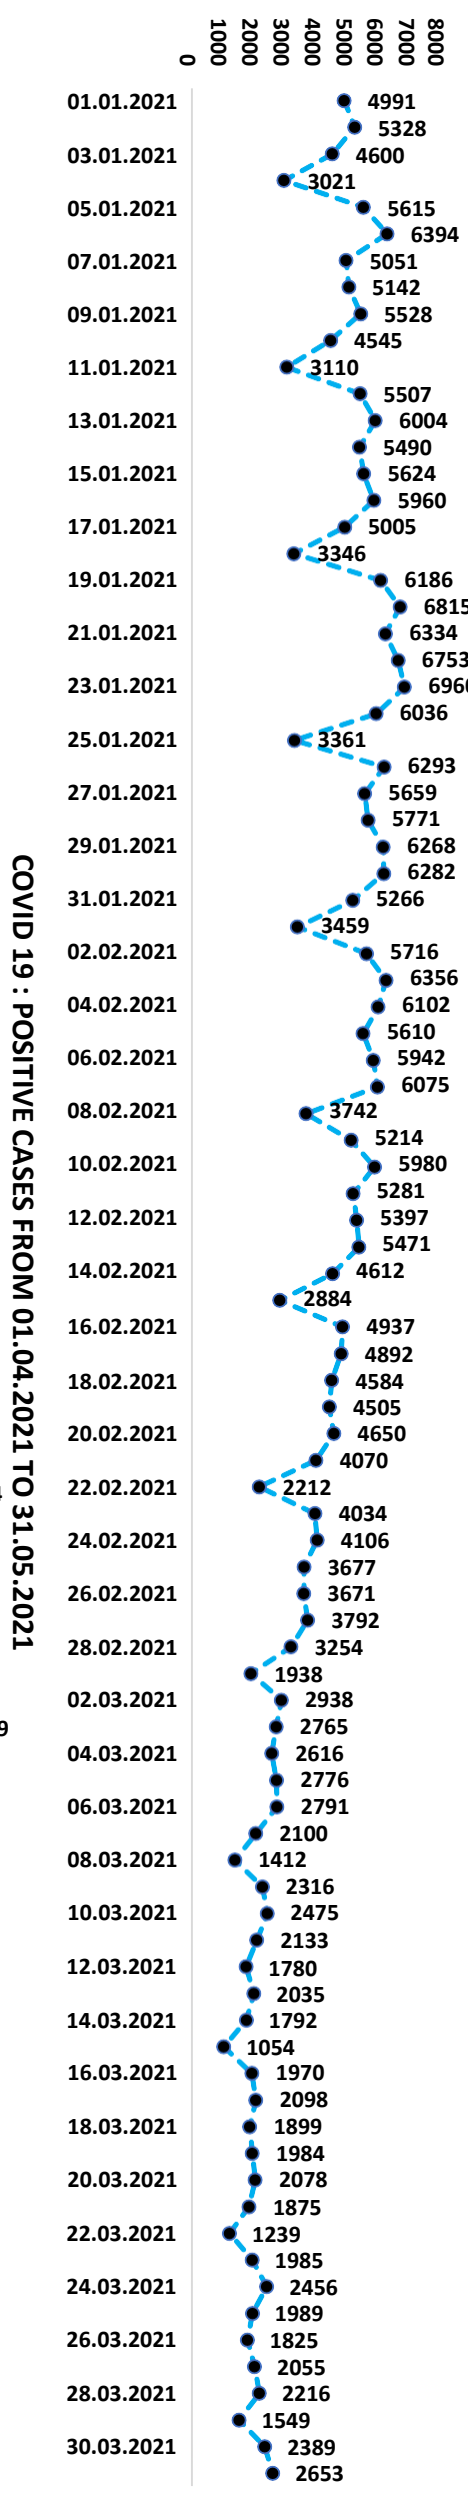

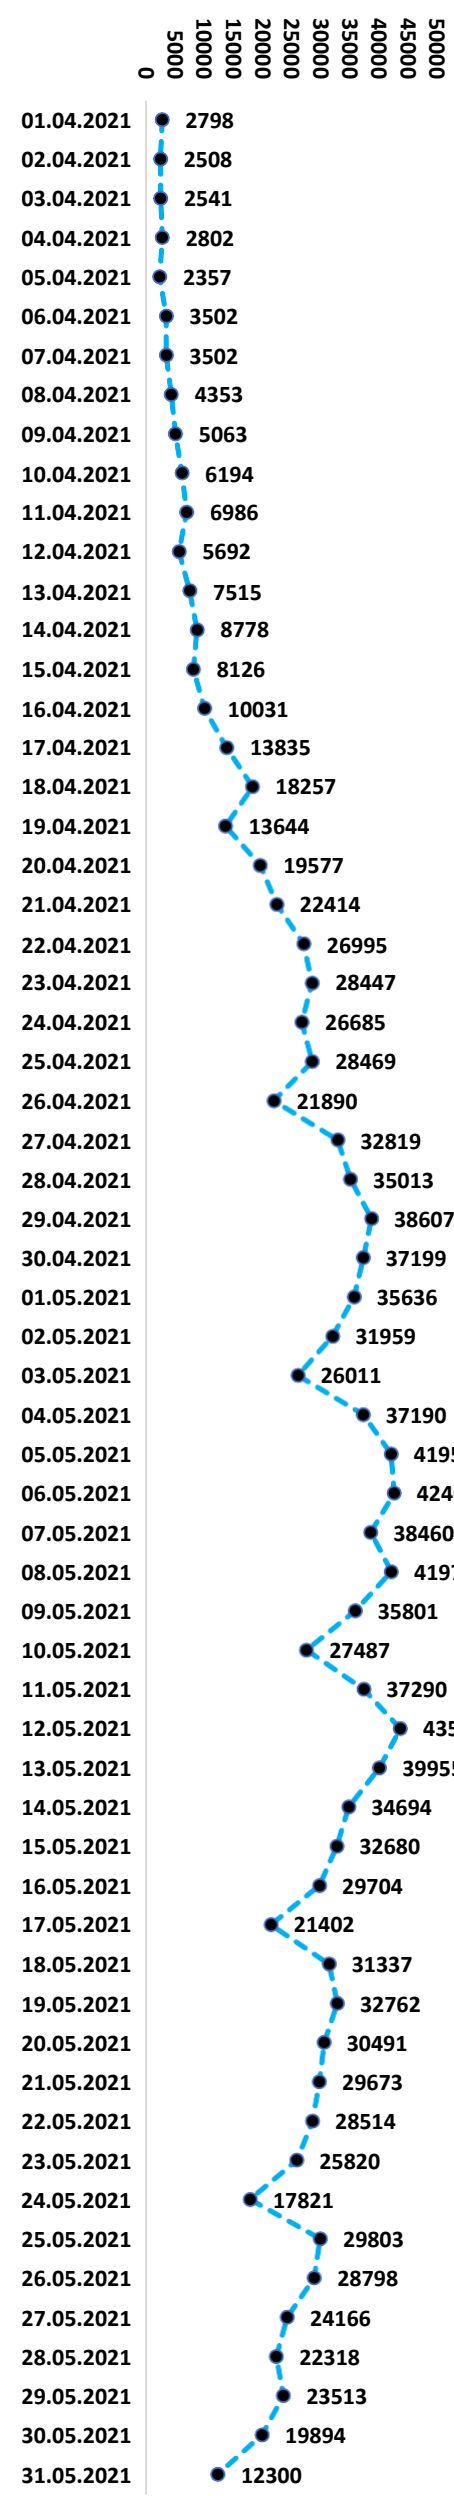

Police Work

- Non Medical Response
 - Quarantine
 - While quarantine was required by the law, police had a role in detecting violation of quarantine.
 - Quarantines were arranged for people who were arriving from outside the state, and also people who were suspected of being secondary contacts.
 - Police worked with the Local Self Government and public Health staff through house visits.
 - Social Distancing
 - There was a requirement for ensuring social distancing in crowded areas like markets, transport hubs, low incoming housing areas etc.
 - Lockdown
 - To prevent the spread of the disease the Government of India ordered a nationwide lockdown from 24th of March. This extended up to 21st May 2020. States have also ordered lockdowns.
 - The police had a role in enforcing the lockdown .
 - Foot and vehicle patrols
 - Public presence
 - Containment zone enforcement.
 - District and State border sealing.
 - The police used the methods of registration of cases, arrests, and seizure of vehicles as methods to enforce the above measures.
 - The police also helped in contact tracing.

Police Work

- The Police also were engaged in community policing.
 - Outreach to vulnerable populations: Migrant workers, Tribal communities, older population, people living alone.
 - Visit to religious community leaders to avoid congregations

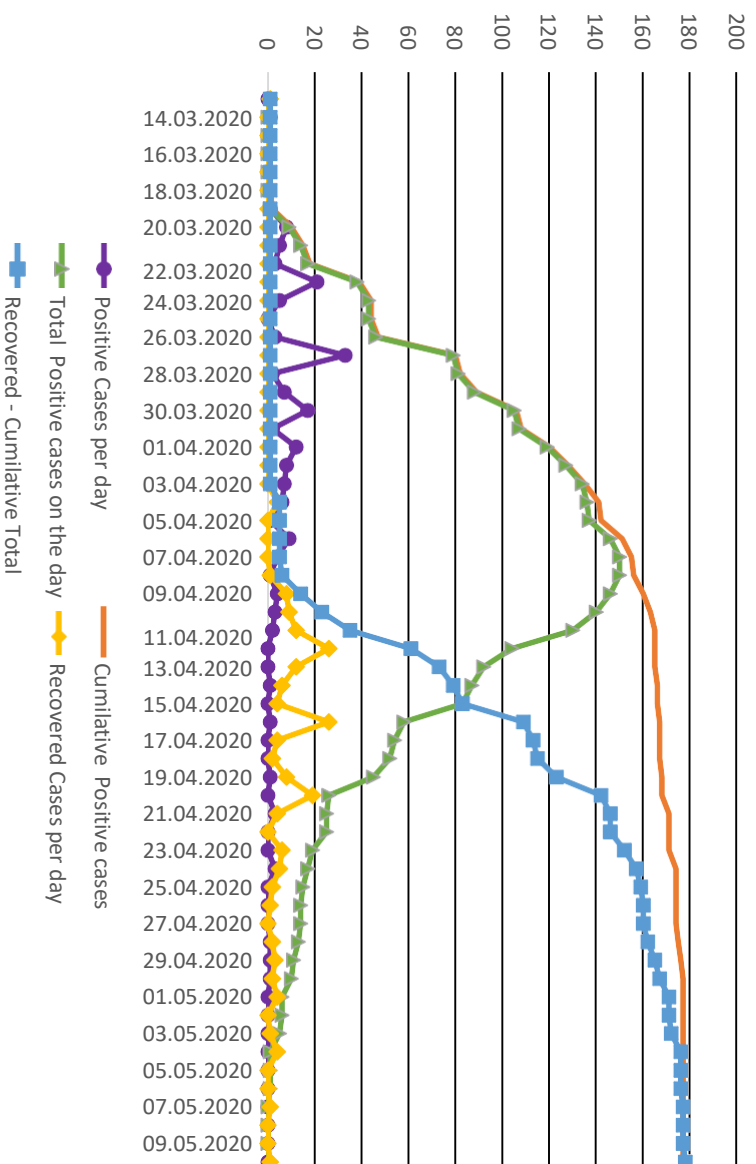

Triple Lock- the Innovative Technique

- Triple lock mechanism which had three layers for enforcing the general lockdown
- The First lock of closing the district borders, restricting movement within the district by posting police checkpoints and through mobile patrolling, and ensuring social distancing in the public space.
- The Second lock was put in localities where COVID19 positive cases were reported and were considered as hotspots. The area around the hotspots were demarcated as containment zones and efforts made to reduce contact of people with others in the locality and outside.
- The Third lock was by ensuring strict quarantine of all primary and secondary contacts of people who had tested positive, which was done by digital monitoring and house visits.

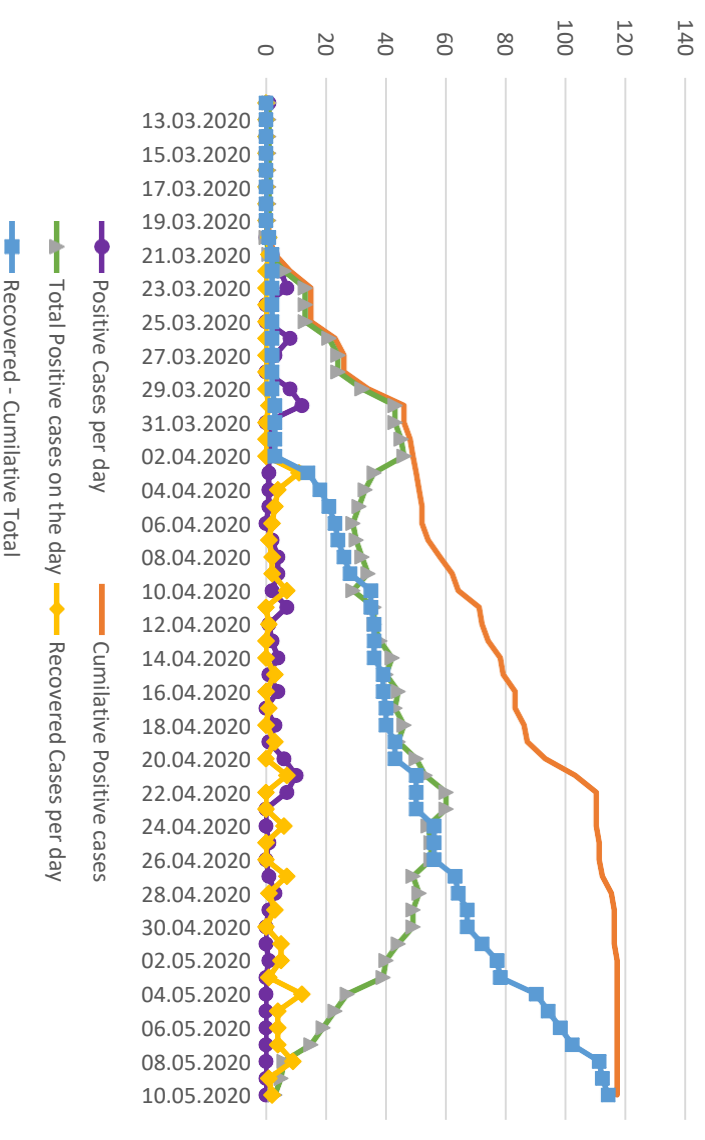

Correlation between Police Action and Levels of Infection.

Challenges to Police

- Unseen Enemy and to keep themselves safe.
- Enforcement of Public health laws is resource and labour intensive, has high degree of risk, and could cause resentment among the people.
- Interagency coordination.
- Use of Technology
- Public service in a risky environment- Issues of morale and motivation.
- Enforcement of public health laws could not only have adverse effect of failing to reduce the spread of the disease, but also result in diminished legitimacy of the police.

Conclusions.

- The COVID 19 pandemic was a challenge of a novel nature for the Police.
- Police came up very quickly with new strategies and tactics to deal with the problem.
- Plain deployment of the police would not give satisfactory results.
- Police work had an impact on the spread of the disease.
- Till the country is vaccinated to the optimum level Non-Medical interventions will have a role in preventing the spread of the disease.
- The efforts of the police in curtailing the spread of the disease:
 - Will reduce the number of positive cases in an area, the Test Positivity Rate, and the Mortality rate.
 - It will reduce the load on the hospital systems, which will have the consequent impact of better treatment and possibly lower casualties.
 - Lower number of cases in an area will allow opening of society and normalization of social interactions and the economy.

PAST STORIES

EBOLA

ZIKA

Women and girls are on the frontlines of the Ebola crisis. As a result of the cultural norm in many parts of Africa, grandmothers, mothers, and daughters bear the burden of tending to sick and dying relatives

THE EBOLA CRISIS IN WEST AFRICA OF 2014-2016

Women and girls faced sexual and gender-based violence, unintended pregnancies and social stigma which in some cases, led to eviction from their homes, loss of employment and other socio-cultural abuses

- A similar pattern is emerging in the current pandemic as reports of sexual and gender-based violence has spiked across most of the countries in the region.

LESSONS TO BE LEARNT FROM PAST STORIES

Wenham, Smith, and Morgan in The Lancet report:

- School closures are likely to have a differential impact on women
- Higher maternal mortality
- Many girls didn't return to schools once they reopened
- Women are also more likely to be burdened with household tasks, which increase with more people staying at home during a quarantine.
- Women were less likely than men to have power in decision making around the outbreak, and their needs were largely unmet

REASONS FOR THE SUFFERINGS OF WOMEN DURING THE PAST PANDEMIC

- The Lancet reports:
- “During the Zika virus outbreak, differences in power between men and women meant that women did not have autonomy over their sexual and reproductive lives”
- “ It was compounded by their inadequate access to health care and insufficient financial resources to travel to hospitals for check-ups for their children, despite women doing most of the community vector control activities”

OUR STORIES

- The Hindu reports: 81% of rural families in T.N. suffered domestic violence during lockdown
- Pudukottai on top in domestic violence amid lockdown in T.N.
- Kancheepuram comes second; sharing of household work was a reason for quarrel
- Apart from this, 6,150 complaints were received from women, mostly housewives, when women police constables visited/called them as part of a community outreach programme
- Of the total 13,447 complaints received during the lockdown, 13,372 cases were settled amicably after the victims voluntarily withdrew the complaints.

CONDITION OF MIGRANT WOMEN LABOURERS

- The Hindustan Times narrates the story of 36 tribal women migrant workers in Tamilnadu:
- “The women, hailing from remote areas of the district, used to work in textile firms in Tamil Nadu's Tirupur. However, many of them lost their jobs due to the Covid-19 situation and were stranded there”

THE STORY OF A SUPPRESSED WOMAN

- Saroj Vasantha, a young mother, can be seen as the epitome of voiceless women. She was even afraid of giving her consent for the survey and waited until she had the approval of her husband to reveal her name. She was the only one in the village in Kanyakumari, Tamil Nadu to acknowledge in a muffled voice the existence of domestic violence. Her depressed tone, shifty eyes, and nervous posture spoke volumes about the apprehension that lay like a mantle upon her head. For her, the violence at home is attributed to financial struggle which aggravated during the pandemic as her husband lost his job.

IMPACT OF ECONOMIC DOWNTURN ON WOMEN

- The economic downturn will have the harshest impact on women. More women work part time, provide a major share of childcare and elder care. They are under paid, unpaid, unorganized and undervalued. Small businesses such as salons, fruit and flower shops are often women-owned. This also exacerbates the economic insecurities and gender inequalities that already exist. The economic shocks felt by women can drive them to take heavy interest loans,

THE PATHETIC CONDITION OF PREGNANT WOMEN

- Another report states:
- The nationwide lockdown to fight the spread of novel coronavirus has put pregnant women in a difficult situation.
- But Tamil Nadu government is confident of ensuring that the needs of pregnant women are taken care of in the state.

MATERNAL MORTALITY

- In an article published in The Hindu Dr.Usha Sriram states:
- Pregnancy should be viewed as a high-risk state. Women missing their antenatal visits/ scans and post-partum visits due to fear of infection and lack of transportation will compound to the existing crises. Maternal morbidity and mortality are likely to go higher now.

REFLECTION OF EBOLA PANDEMIC

- Dr.Usha Sriram's article in The Hindu reports:
- Nearly 700 million girls are out of school now and many adolescent girls who are forced to stay at home run the real risk of being burdened and exploited with domestic chores and caregiving. Many may never return to school. It is important to anticipate these challenges and begin the remedial measures at local and the national levels.

UN SECRETARY-GENERAL'S RECENT CALL TO ACTION ON HUMAN RIGHTS

- UN recommends three cross-cutting priorities to ensure women's safety:
- Ensure women's equal representation in all covid-19 response planning and decision-making
- Drive transformative change for equality by addressing the care economy, paid and unpaid
- Target women and girls in all efforts to address the socio-economic impact of covid-19

SHADOW PANDEMIC

THE WORRYING TENDENCY IS COINED THE SHADOW PANDEMIC.---UN |

- (A term to describe the growing rates of violence against women and girls amid the covid-19 pandemic)
- The Federal news states:
- “Taking note of the warning issued by the United Nations on shadow pandemic — a rise in physical and sexual violence against women and children, M Ravi, Additional Director General of Police for crimes against women and children, has written to police personnel in this regard.”

The Shadow Pandemic: Violence Against Women and Girls and COVID-19

Globally,

243 million

women and girls aged 15-49 have been subjected to sexual and/or physical violence perpetrated by an intimate partner in the previous 12 months.

The number is likely to INCREASE as security, health, and money worries heighten tensions and strains are accentuated by cramped and confined living conditions.

Emerging data shows that since the outbreak of COVID-19, violence against women and girls (VAWG), and particularly domestic violence, has INTENSIFIED.

UN WOMEN'S RECOMMENDATIONS

- UN Women , a separate wing recommends some measures to be adopted by governments:
 - Ensure the needs of female nurses and doctors
 - Ensure that hotlines and services for all victims of domestic abuse
 - Ensure health insurance benefits for those most in need
 - Whether at the local, municipal or national level, bringing the voices of women into decision-making will lead to better outcomes
- Unstereotype” the gender roles

We must stop

- Marginalizing women from the public sphere)
- Exploiting women's resources in paid and unpaid labor
- marginalizing violence as a private rather than public legal issue
